

Elizabeth Todd sues for a divorce from Andrew Todd, and charges that he used obscene and indecent language to her, and went so far as to strike the wife of his bosom; that he refused to administer to her the necessaries and comforts of life when she was in bed sick. The couple were married on the 24th of April, 1876, and Elizabeth is sorry now that she ever took a Todd.