

OLD HOWARD

"Oriental Girls" Burlesque

Beauties are no surprise to the Old Howard patrons but this week's presentation is tops in the person of Wauneta Bates, who since she became the "Miss St. Louis of 1938" has become an expert in the oriental type of dance. Miss Bates will be remembered as the winner of the perfect form contest in the recent Atlantic City beauty pageant.

Charles ("Red") Marshall heads the comedians in the new Howard show, "Oriental Girls." Other Boston favorites in the cast of 50 are Dolores Dawn, exotic dancer; Harry Clexx, eccentric comic; Irene Cornell, sensational stepper; Murray Leonard, Johnny Cook and Marie DeVoe. Among the specialty teams are Norma and Connie Jerome, Green and Land and the Three Kit-aros. There is a chorus made up of 25 pretty girls, well trained in the newest dances and songs.

Screen attractions are Humphrey Bogart in "Black Legion," and Lee Tracy in "Behind the Headlines."

Every day there are three shows at the Old Howard and each Friday night there is a special midnight show, starting at 11:30.

An added attraction to the regular bill are the moving pictures of the bout for the championship of the world between the heavyweight champion, Joe Louis, and Nat Mann.
