

Henry Saner, who has been an inmate at the county farm for many years, is in very poor health. Last week he was not expected to live but a few days at most, but he has since improved some. "Cap" Saner in his earlier days was prosperous, but his appetite for strong drink proved his undoing.