STILL THEY COME.

LAWRENCEBURG. Oct. 4, 1844.

DEAR SIR:—Democracy. Polk, Dallas and Texas is gaining finely in old Lawrence, many changes have taken place, although the whigs deny the accuracy of the facts; and that the public and the world may know the truth, we say that we the undersigned were for Gov. Jones and the whig ticket at the last popular election, but we now say to the democracy of old Lawrence, and the State and the Union, that we now go for Polk and Dallas, and the annexation of the lone star of Texas, and we have no fears in Lawrence county, but that she will give a handsome majority for Polk and Dallas.

S. J. GREEN,
WESLEY CROSS,
WM. P. THOMPSON,
M. G. THOMPSON,
WM. BATMAN,
WM. MANGUM,
JESSE HIGGS.

The above are a few out of many changes in this county. I am personally acquainted with these gentlemen, a few out of many others, whose names could be had by riding through the county.

No fears need be entertained as to old Lawrence—she will “never give up the ship.”

Yours, &c.,                      T. J. M.
