William Hogeland's Will of 1799

In the name of God Amen, this 13th day of January, 1799,

I, William Hogeland, of Green County and the State of Kentucky, being sick in body but of good and perfect memory and calling to remembrance the uncertainty (sic) estate of this transitory life and all that flesh must yield to God, I therefore, make this my last will and testament revoking and disciminating(sic) all other former will or wills by me heretofore made, signed or acknowledged to be completed in form following.
Imprimus, I commit my soul to God, my body to be buried as shall seem right at the discretion of my executors hereafter mentioned.

I desire that all my just debts be settled and paid.

I give and bequest to my son, ABRAHAM HOGELAND, fifty-three and a half acres of land to be taken off the upper and of this tract I now live on forever.

I give and bequest to my beloved wife, ELIZABETH HOGELAND, the bottom of this tract whereon I now live during her natural life and after to descend to my daughter, ANNA, and to the heirs of her body; lawfully begotten forever, as also I give and bequest all and singular my moveable estate to be given or kept as my before mentioned wife shall see fit.

I give and bequeath unto my son JAMES HOGELAND, a tract of land lying and being in said State and county which I bought of my son, ISAAC HOGELAND.

And lastly I appoint and constitute my beloved wife, ELIZABETH HOGELAND executrix of this my last will and testimony.

Signed and acknowledged by me William Hogeland the day and date above written.
