GRATEFULLY DEDICATED

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

The whole Haynes Family owes a debt of gratitude to the late David Francis Haynes of Baltimore, Md., and the late Andrew Mack Haines of Galena, Ills., for these records, that were obtained by their persistent research, and at their expense, for more than twenty years. These records were left to Frank R. Haynes, son of D. F. Haynes, who has loaned them to his sister, Miss Frances Haynes, by whose tireless, painstaking efforts they have been extended to the present day, and put in condition for publishing. The reader will note and realize what a monumental work this has been, as he peruses the following pages.

The publication has been made possible by the generous financial assistance of many members of the family, and the work has been approved by Frederic M. Haynes, of Milton, Mass., Prof. George H. Barton, of Cambridge, Mass., Frederick J. Haynes of Detroit, Mich., and Winthrop P. Haynes, Ph. D. of Paris, France.

PREFACE

It has been said that "the full genealogy of an American immigrant of the seventeenth century is a monumental work, and he indeed is a bold genealogist who expects to do more than compile such a work in an ordinary lifetime. Tradition goes for naught, documentary evidence alone satisfies. This is often difficult, sometimes impossible to procure. The pioneers were too busy clearing land, and fighting Indians and wild beasts, to devote overmuch time to compiling records for a posterity which might never see the light."

The Walter Haynes Family is most fortunate in the great care with which Sudbury kept its Vital Records, and Town Meeting Minutes. We find there, the early births, deaths and marriages of the family, and a record of service in the community which enables us to form quite an estimate of each man's personality. "December 10, 1641, the General Court appoints Walter Hayne, clerk of the Writs for Sudbury." (Mass. State Records.) So he no doubt helped to start an accurate, business-like method of recording. Then again, are we fortunate, in the genealogy written by John^t Haynes, b. 1684, a great grandson of Walter¹. This gives the record of both the descendants of Walter Haynes and Peter Noyes from their coming to the New World, until about 1771, the death of Phineas Haynes in that year being the latest date recorded. We speak of this record by John^t Haynes as the "Blue Book." See page 40. The editor has carefully compared all names and dates from these two sources, as well as from the published Vital Records of Sudbury, and other Massachusetts towns, and so accurately did the different Town Clerks, John^t Haynes in his "Blue Book," and the different copyists do their work, that few variations are found. These few are carefully noted.

Early in 1879, the late David Francis^s Haynes of Baltimore, (father of the editor), got in touch with the late Andrew Mack Haines of Galena, Ill. All of the name of Haynes, however spelled, or of whatever branch, owe a debt to Andrew Mack Haines. For over forty years he collected data from every available source, and of every branch of the name, bringing to the task a trained mind, enthusiasm and unflagging industry and perseverance. Though a descendant of Dea. Samuel Haines, who came from Wiltshire, Eng., and settled in Greenland, N. H., in 1635, and whose descendants have been given in the valuable book, "Dea. Samuel Haines and his Descendants," A. M. H. took an interest in every clan of the name. He assured D. F. Haynes that he had the necessary perseverance and interest to work up the Walter Haynes line. So D. F. Haynes had everything relating to Hayneses copied from the Sudbury, Wayland, Maynard, Brimfield, Framingham, Natick, Princeton and Billerica (all in Mass.) Town Records. Also Massachusetts State Records, Middlesex Co., Mass. Probate Court Records. In some cases Land Records were examined. Cemeteries were searched for names and dates. Then, as some of the family had emigrated to Connecticut, New York State, and Vermont, he had Groton, New London, and Stonington, Conn., Court Records searched. These places, Pawling, N. Y., and localities in Windham Co., Vt., had no Vital Records kept in those days. In some cases even the meagre Court Records were burned or lost. Meantime, Mr. Haynes sent out circular letters, or wrote, to every one of the name whose address he could obtain. In this way valuable family records were secured. Then he and A. M. Haines had research made in England, as will be seen in the chapter on "English Research," page 6.

It was Mr. Haynes's wish to compile and publish all this Haynesiana. But heavy business cares prevented. Finding the services of a professional genealogist would make expenses greater than any sum he could raise, he let the matter rest awhile. After some years he started his daughter, Frances Haynes, the present editor, to compiling. Other demands gave her little time for the work. But off and on, here half a dozen dates, there a score of new names, she has persevered. Our book now contains 5000 names, 1514 being of the name of Haynes. We have 11 generations recorded, and seven children of the 12th generation. The Family has now spread from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and from Nova Scotia to Texas.

It will interest our readers to note the wide range of territory separating the following descendants, born the past summer. Doubtless there were other births, but only the following were sent in. In Paris, France, Edward Hamilton¹¹ Haynes, son of Winthrop P.¹⁰ and Anna H. (Morse) Haynes, was born 6 July 1928. At Springfield, Mass., Robert Stacy¹¹ Haynes, son of Chester W.¹⁰ and Helen W. (Stacy) Haynes was born 18 Sept. 1928. At Kokomo, Ind., Robert Edward¹¹ Hillis, son of Bernice¹⁰ (Haynes) and Glen R. Hillis, was born 29 June 1928. And at Honolulu, Hawaii, on the 9th of July 1928, was born Edward Lincoln¹¹ Harwood, son of Harriet¹⁰ (Haynes) and Lieut. Edward C. Harwood, U. S. A. So we may truthfully say: "On Walter Haynes' descendants the sun never sets."

The compiler is sadly conscious of the shortcomings of her work. But it is a heroic task to get "up-to-the minute" and past records in these hustling days, and to arrange the same. In several cases where the records are most deficient the editor has spent the most time and effort trying to obtain the desired data.

But for Frederic Marshall⁹ Haynes of Milton, we fear these records would never have seen book form. It is his able and hard work that has raised the funds, and carried out the business side of the project, as well as giving valued advice on editorial matters. We wish to thank for advice, Prof. George H. Barton of Cambridge, Mass.; for family records, Frederick Haynes Newell, of Washington; Frederick J. Haynes of Detroit, Mich.; the late Mrs. Eliza M. Haynes of Bridgeport; Charles S. Haynes of Bridgeport; the late Silas B. Haynes of Still River; Mrs. Grace Haynes Rogers, now of Ocala, Fla.; Miss Effie Haynes of Buckhannon, W. Va.; Miss Ruby Haynes of Victoria Beach, Nova Scotia; the late Mrs. Laurilla Hunt Sanders; and all others who have carefully preserved lengthy lists of names and dates and copied the same for us. Then we most heartily thank all who have subscribed to the publication fund, by whose financial assistance the book has been made possible. Their names have been given on page VIII.

In the early days the Hayneses like most of the pioneers seem to have been farmers. But they were also active in public affairs. Later we find many turning to business and industrial and professional life. There are physicians, clergymen, lawyers, (one a woman) a few authors, college professors, teachers, scientists, one noted inventor, the late Elwood Haynes.

"Whatever may be our attainments we owe much to our inheritance. It makes a difference whether we have iron or water in the blood. It is an incentive that we can trace the iron in the lives of our forefathers."

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION CONCERNING THE HAYNES COAT OF ARMS.

Written by Frederic M. Haynes

As the several records of the ancient coat of arms with the greyhound, show slight variations, there was some question as to which coloring we should adopt for our frontispiece. The records of the Visitations of Shropshire, have the greyhound sable (black), and the roundles are besants (gold). Mr. A. M. Haines wrote that "the Sutton Family of Haynes changed the color of the greyhound to azure for distinction of their branch. The Dorsetshire branch use the same coat as the Sutton, but write themselves Hayne. Walter belonged to the Dorsetshire branch." (See "The Haynes Arms," page 3.)

The Committee on Heraldry of the New England Historic Genealogical Society of Boston, advised us to write to the College of Arms, London, for the official record, which we accordingly did, and we have received the following reply, dated December 11, 1928:—

"The result of the search which has been made in the records of the College shows that the arms confirmed to Thomas Hayne of Fryer Waddon Co. Dorset on 4 September 1607 were as follows:—

Arms:—Or, on a fesse gules three plates, in chief a greyhound courant azure.

Crest:—An eagle wings expanded or, preying on a tortoise argent—

This information was taken from the original docquet of the confirmation of the arms by the College, on 4 September 1607 and entered at that time.

Yours Very Truly,

A. T. BUTLER, Portcullis
College of Arms, London, Eng."

From Encyclopaedia Britannica—"The Heralds College or College of Arms is the official authority in matters of armorial bearing and pedigree. Their records are accepted in courts of law."

By the personal investigation of original records in the College of Arms by Winthrop P. Haynes (No. 1263) February 20, 1929, we find that the same record for the arms as that given by A. T. Butler was recorded in the Visitation of Dorset in 1623, viz.—"plates," silver, and greyhound "azure." Also we find that Guillim, Burke, and Harlein, who are authorities on Heraldry, all agree in recording the arms for Dorset as above.

These facts seem to show that while the northern branches of the Family, in Shropshire (now Salop), and vicinity, continued to use the original coat, those living in Southern England, in Dorset and vicinity, adopted these slight changes. We have therefore decided to depict the coat of arms in accordance with these records for Dorset.

The Crest recorded 4 September 1607 is the one that was granted to Thomas Hayne at that date (see page 3) as he wished to change from the crest of 1584 (Eagle with stars) and it was for just his branch of the Family. We have therefore decided to reprint only the crest of 1584. He was a contemporary of Walter, and we record this crest merely as an interesting matter of history.

WALTER HAYNES AND HIS DESCENDANTS

THE ORIGIN OF THE HAYNES FAMILY

We find that some think the various Hayne, Haynes, Haines Families originated in Wales. Others hold that they are of Saxon-Norman origin. There is no pedigree extant, of any contemporary family of the name in England or America, going back of the sixteenth century. The Welsh origin given in Stemmata Botevilliana goes back to Gwyn, Lord of Guilsfield, County Montgomery, Wales. This Gwyn, descended from Brocknel Yschithrog, who reigned over Powysland, (Wales) A. D. 607. His descendant, Einion, Prince of Powys, was distinguished in the wars against Henry I of England, A. D. 1100-1135. This Einion had a son, whom he named after himself, Einon. According to the Welsh custom of the times, the son was familiarly called Einws, pronounced Eins. Now this Einws had a son John, who was called John Einws, afterwards written John Eines of Bausley, a town in the parish of Alderbury. Alderbury was in both Shropshire and Montgomeryshire. Shrewsbury was the market town for this parish and in the ancient records of the town in the 15th and early part of the 16th centuries we find the name variously written: Eines, Eynes, Heynes, Heanes, Haines, Haynes. The pronunciation of all these was probably the same. Mr. A. M. Haines, considered this the probable origin of the family from which his ancestor, Samuel Haines, descended, and he used the Arms of the Shropshire Family. Because by 1607 we find Thomas Hayne of Frier Waddon, Dorset bearing the Arms of this Shropshire Haines, Hayne family, Mr. A. M. H. thought Walter Haynes was of this branch, for Frier Waddon is near Sherborne, Dorset, where we find the marriage record of John Hayne and Alice Lambert in 1575. These being undoubtedly the parents of Walter Haynes. See page 7.

We find others think that the Walter Haynes Family was of Saxon-Norman origin. William the Conqueror found the Haynes Family established in South Britain, when he landed there in 1066. It is thought they had held their lands there from the Saxon Heptarchy founded by Cedric in 519.

The following was written by John Haines of Totness, Devonshire, at one time Mayor of that town:

"William upon his arrival in England, found the Hayne family settled at 'Hayne' in the Parish of Stowford, County of Devon. near the river Tamar, which separates Cornwall from Devon. They existed as a clan, and were possessed of immense tracts of land in Devonshire and Cornwall.

"So it appears that even at that time the family was one of importance in the country. William took one half of their lands, which he gave to his followers. The other half was entered in the Domesday Book, as the property of the 'Clan Haineses.' The family continued to be of importance, as many of their chiefs filled the office of High Sheriff of the county—an office at that time of great importance. The incumbent was the representative of the King, led the yeomen of the county to battle, and was the head of the county. The high standing of the family continued until 1600, when the estate had descended to an only daughter, Tameson, or Thomazine Hayne, the daughter of a Walter Hayne. Tameson married a Harris of Cornwall, and so carried Hayne to the Harris family. Upon his marriage this Harris was made High Sheriff of the county. From that time until 1876 the property remained in the Harris Family, who were known by the name of Harris of Hayne. At the date above, the estates were sold. But at the time of the marriage of Tameson, the family had scattered, feeling their head was gone and a stranger seated in the hall of their fathers, this feeling being undoubtedly assisted by religious differences, which at that time were making themselves felt in families."

In Burke's Historic Lands of England, pub. London 1849, occurs the following: The owner of Hayne held the lands, "under condition that when the Sovereign made a royal progress through the country, he should meet him at Poulstone Bridge, on the river Tamar, with a golden ewer and napkin. Should the owner of Hayne omit this ceremony, the estate should be forfeited." Also that "the ancient castle of Hayne, stood upon a lofty eminence in the Park, and some vestiges of it were still visible." (1849). See Picture of Hayne Manor.

There is a town or village called Haine in Devonshire. Near it is beautiful Hayne Manor. In the Park of Hayne Manor the ruins of Hayne Castle may still be seen. There is a Hayne Tower on Dartmoor in Devonshire, and a river called Hayne which runs into the Tavy.

We show two pictures of Hayne Manor, one of which shows in the distance the ruins of Hayne Castle. These pictures were made from photographs which Mr. D. F. Haynes had taken in 1880.

The editor greatly hopes that some of the descendants of Walter Haynes will soon visit Hayne Manor, and write to her what they can discover as to this beautiful old estate which was once the home of those of the name of Hayne. As county Devon borders on the south-western part of county Dorset, where we find definite traces of Walter Haynes, and as his descendants seem always instinctively to spell the name Haynes with a "y", this Saxon-Norman origin of Hayne Manor, at Hayne, Devonshire, England. View of the front of house. See page 2. From Photographs taken for the late D. F. Haynes, about 1881.

Hayne Manor. View of the back of the house from the Rookery. Note the rooks on the grass in the foreground. Vestiges of Hayne Castle may be seen on the hill in the distance.

Walter Haynes' ancestors seems to the editor the more probable of the two. We find those who belong to Haines families who should spell with an "i" using the "y", but the editor has not found a single instance of a descendant of Walter Haynes writing the name with an "i." Of course on Town Records, deeds, etc., the spelling varies, as is true of all names.

THE HAYNES ARMS.

The following is given on the authority of the late A. M. Haines referred to in Preface, and the chapter on English Research. More than fifty years ago Mr. Haines had T. C. Noble, an antiquarian of London, search for records of the Haines, Haynes Arms, in the Herald's College and the British Museum, London. The following facts were discovered:

The most ancient coat of arms recorded as belonging to one of our name was borne by Sir Eynns who was among the knights of Shropshire in the reign of King Edward I, who ruled from 1272-1307. These arms were: "a silver shield, with fesse gules, with three roundles."

The gradual change of the name from Eynns, to Eines, Heines, Haines, Haynes has been noted in the chapter on "The Origin of the Haynes Family."

In 1569, during the reign of Queen Elizabeth, the Garter-King-at-Arms records the first visitation of Shropshire. The blazon of the Haines, Haynes Arms, is then recorded as: "Or, on a fesse gules three bezants; and in chief a greyhound, courant, sable, collared of the second." (A golden shield, with a horizontal red band across the middle, on which are three gold coins, and in the upper part, a black greyhound running, who wears a red collar.) This change of the roundles to bezants shows that Sir Eynns went with Edward on the Crusade he conducted in 1270, before he became king. Bezants were gold coin of Byzantium and their use on a shield indicates the bearer had been a Crusader.

In the second visitation of Shropshire, A. D. 1584, a crest is recorded in addition to the Arms above, being "on a wreath of his colors an eagle displayed, azure, sprinkled with silver stars." (See frontispiece, the sinister crest.) In the third visitation of 1663, the two crests appear, the dexter crest having been granted to Thomas Hayne of Frier Waddon, Dorset, in 1607. The diploma for the same is, in part, as follows:

"Whereas Thomas Hayne of Frier Waddon in the County of Dorset, Esquire, being induced for some certain causes honestly known unto him and sought out, has proposed and determined to change the Ensigns of his family, which his kindred of old have been duly wont to bear on the Helmet, and newly to assume others, * * I therefore * * have fashioned and confirmed to him this Ensign. * * On a wreath of his colors an Eagle displayed or, seisant on a tortoise, argent, * * and

I do give to him, and to all descendants from him, and those forever to be born of them, the most ample power that they may bear, engrave and depict such ensign in rings, shields, banners, tabards or otherwise soever at any time and place, as to him or them shall seem meet and convenient.

Given at London the fourth day of September, in the year of our Lord 1607 and the Fifth year of the reign of our most Serene Lord James, by the Grace of God, King of Great Britain, France and Ireland, Defender of the Faith, &c.

William Segar, Garter Principal, King of Arms &c."

Some families changed the sable greyhound to azure.

We will see in the chapter on English Research that it is impossible to trace the line of any Haynes, Haines Family back to Sir Eynns, or to the last Hayne who owned Hayne Manor in Devon, but we find the Arms just described borne in both Wiltshire and Dorset for centuries before the emigration of those of the name to New England, and so later descendants of both Dea. Samuel Haines and of Walter Haynes have used the same.

Mr. A. M. Haines found the following given as a coat-of-arms borne by the Devonshire family of Hayne: "argent, a chevron gules, between three martlets sable." It is said that the martlets signify a fourth son.

The College of Arms or Herald's College in London, had recorded at the time of the above research, some thirty heraldic designs borne by Haines, Haynes families, but only four or five are of ancient origin. Mottoes are generally modern and of the bearer's fancy. That used by A. M. Haines, was: "There is no difficulty to him that wills," and was exemplified in his unflagging perseverance. The same was used by Gen'l Sir Frederic Paul Haines, Commander-in-Chief of the British forces in India 1876-81, K. C. B. etc., Field Marshall of England 1892. "Labore et Honore" was the motto used by Hon. Tilly Haynes of Boston (No. 916.) "Omnia Voluntas Vincit." ("The Will conquers all things") is used by Winthrop Perrin Haynes (No. 1263).

Another ancient coat of arms, which we find was confirmed to Nicholas Haynes of Hackney, Co. Middlesex, "fourth son of Richard Haynes of Readinge in Barkshire, gentleman, and of Thomasen his wife, daughter and co-heire of John ffoxley," is as follows: "Argent, 3 crescents paly of six, undée azure and gules, with a heron ppr, rising, for a crest." (A silver shield, 3 crescents divided into six segments, wavy, blue and red; and upon a wreath silver and red, a heron, rising, "the body proper couller, wings silver, legged and beaked gould," for a crest.) This coat is said to have been borne by the Gen'l Sir F. P. Haines, above, and by Gen. Hezekiah Haynes, a son of Gov. John Haynes of Conn., etc. We understand the same coat has been used by those of the name of Haynes in America.

USE OF A COAT OF ARMS.

Written by Frederic Marshall Haynes.

As to the rights of descendants of Walter Haynes to use the Hayne coat of arms, in the absence of proof of direct descent from some member of the Family who had that authority, we have found that the English records of births, deaths and marriages of the period in which Walter was born, were so poorly kept, or so often missing, it was impossible to trace his line, but we know that the Shropshire arms had been borne by the Family for several hundred years. There were certainly some of the Family in Dorsetshire who were entitled to use it, as Thomas Hayne was granted a change of ensign or crest. Walter was one of the Dorsetshire branch of the Family. Andrew Mack Haines whose ancestor was Deacon Samuel Haines of New Hampshire, and Hon. Tilly Haynes, of Walter's Family, whose ancestors lived within fifteen miles of each other in Wiltshire, England, were so confident, that while unable to trace the connection with Thomas Hayne, it was so probable that they were of the same Family, that they felt justified in using it, which they both did as far back as 1879. Our emigrant ancestors wishing to eschew all things monarchical, would not display or hand down, such symbols of class distinction. Those interested in the publication of this book, show them simply as a matter of history of by-gone-days.

We find the rules about using a coat of arms are not so rigid in this country as they are in England. There the right must be hereditary, or by special royal grant. We have the following opinion from the Committee on Heraldry of the New England Historic Genealogical Society of Boston, and the American Antiquarian Society of Worcester gives practically the same opinion. "As to the rules governing the use of arms in this country, we may say that there are no rules. It is all a matter of propriety or good taste. A coat of arms is a species of property, like a trade mark, and belongs to all the male descendants of people who acquired their title by usage or by grant from the Herald's College. If this be an old coat used by many families of the name in England, and the emigrant came from a county in England in which there was a Hayne family using the coat, we should see no impropriety in representing the arms in your book as a matter of family interest, provided you made it clear that the right of Walter and his descendants had not been established."

VARIOUS FAMILIES OF THE NAME OF HAYNES
IN AMERICA

(1) Jonathan Haynes, said to have come over in 1632, settled in Newbury, Mass. In 1638 he removed to Haverhill, Mass., with his family. He was killed by the Indians in 1698, but left descendants who became quite numerous.

(2) John Haynes of Copford Hall, Colchester, Co. Essex, England, came over in 1633. He was chosen governor of the Massachusetts Bay Colony in 1635. Went to Hartford in 1637, joining the colony there of the Rev. Thomas Hooker. "He became the first governor of Connecticut, and was a man of wealth, of generous spirit, and wide influence." His great-grandson dying in 1717, leaving no children, this family died out in the male line in America, though we believe there are descendants whose name is other than Haynes.

(3) In 1635 Samuel Haines came, probably from Westbury, Co. Wilts, England, and from him descended the late A. M. Haines, the genealogist, referred to frequently in this book. Samuel came in the ship "Angel Gabriel," which was wrecked off the coast of Maine. He later settled in Greenland, near Portsmouth, N. H. An interesting genealogy of this family, "Dea. Samuel Haines and his Descendants," has been published.

(4) Our Walter Haynes, of Sudbury, coming from Sutton Mandeville, Co. Wilts, in 1638, was the next founder of another family of the name.

(5) An Edmund Haynes appears in Springfield in 1660. We understand that his antecedents are unknown.

(6) Benjamin Haines came from England and was settled at Southampton, L. I., by 1639.

(7) Richard Haines of Aynhoe, Northamptonshire, England, was the head of another family which settled at Evesham, Burlington Co., N. J., in 1682.

(8) John Haynes, dropping the terminal "s" from his name, came from near Shrewsbury in Shropshire, England, and settled in 1700, in St. Bartholomew Parish, Collerton Co., S. C.

(9) There was a family by the name of Haynes in Virginia at the time of the Revolution, which did valiant service in that war, but we have not ascertained who was the first of that branch of the name, in this country, nor where he first appeared.

Others have come in later times to make their home in the New World. One family from Prussia changed the name from Heine or Heyne to Hayne, after settling in this country.

Extensive research in England, as shown in chapter on Research, has failed to find any connection between the various pioneers, nor did any of them, so far as we could ascertain, leave any written records of their forefather's antecedents in the Old World.

THE SEARCH FOR THE ANCESTORS OF WALTER HAYNES

(Being a list of the English Parish Registers, Bishop's Transcripts, Manor Rolls, Wills, etc., examined for traces of Walter Haynes and Dea. Samuel Haines.)

About 1879-82, A. M. Haines of Galena, Ill., and D. F. Haynes of Baltimore, had extensive search made in England for traces of Samuel Haines, who came from Westbury, Wilts, in 1635, and was the ancestor of A. M. H.; and of our ancestor, Walter Haynes of Sutton Mandeville, Wilts, and Sudbury, Mass. As Mr. A. M. H.

had had records in England searched from time to time, and was in touch with antiquaries trained for such work, Mr. D. F. H. asked him if he would conduct the research if they divided expenses between them. This Mr. A. M. H. was glad to do. A Rev. F. J. Poynton, was engaged to search the Salisbury Transcripts, and some of the Parish Registers. He was a gifted scholar.

Mr. T. C. Noble of London, searched some of the Parish Registers and the old Wills of Wilts, Dorset, and a few of Co. Berks, all of which wills are now kept in London. He was a scholarly man and most thorough searcher. He sent an abstract of names mentioned, value of bequests, etc., of each will, of the name searched for.

The Rev. Mr. Leighton, a very able antiquary of Shrewsbury, Co. Wilts, was employed to search the Church Stretton Manor Rolls. He was proficient in reading the contracted Latin Records, which require one versed in the same.

A Mr. Beedham, and a Mr. Edwards, also did a little research.

Some years before this, A. M. H. had the "Roll of the Draper's Company," and the "Burgess's Roll," searched by Rev. Mr. Leighton. No results.

During the Commonwealth Cromwell's soldiers destroyed some church records, so that may be the reason why data we desire cannot be unearthed.

In the early 1890's a Mr. Rufus King of Yonkers, N. Y., one of whose ancestors, William King, had married Dorothea Hayne, had searched parish registers in Counties Dorset and Somerset. On the register of the Abbey Church of St. Mary, at Sherborne, Dorset, was recorded their marriage, 17 Feb., 1616-17. Among other entries sent to Mr. King by the Vicar of St. Mary were the following: "John Hayne, et Alicie Lambert nup: (married) 23 Oct. 1575." "John Hayne, baptiz. 30 Sept. 1576." "Margery Hayne, baptiz. 23 Aug. 1578." "William Hayne, baptiz. 29 Sept. 1580." The register does not give the name of the parents of John, Margery and William, but probably they are the three oldest children of John and Alice (Lambert) Hayne, above, and undoubtedly John and Alice are also the parents of our Walter Haynes, born 1583. The following list of Registers searched is given in full, that he whom we hope some day will renew this quest, may not go over the same ground again.

The Registers at Semley, where Alice Hayne, the mother of Walter lived when she made her will, (see page 10), and where she was buried, do not begin until 1664-65. About 1876, a Lady Warminster had the church there rebuilt. So thoroughly did she have the work done, that no trace of the former building was left. "Not a tablet left inside of the church, nor a tombstone older than 1760," wrote Rev. F. P. Poynton, who went there for Messrs. H. and H. So no trace of Walter, or Alice Hayne was found in Semley.

Shaftesbury, Dorset, called Shaston or Shafton, by Walter Haynes in his Will, has three Parish churches, Shafton St. Peter, St. James, and St. Rumbold. The Register of Shafton St. Peter dates from 1625 and from that date to 1705 there are 21 entries of the name of Hayne, Hayme, Hain and Hein, all probably the Parish Clerk's varied spelling of the name of Hayne. None of these relate to the Walter Haynes or Dea. Samuel Haines families. The Records are mentioned as deficient.

The Parish Register of St. James contains no entry of the name of Haynes, Haines, between 1620 and 1660. The Rector of the Parish of St. Rumbold, reported that he was unable to decipher the early entries, but did not think any of them were of the name of Haynes. From 1726 to 1775 there were eight entries of the name, but none which connect with our family.

The Parish Register of Sutton Mandeville does not begin until 1654. When in England, in June, 1880, D. F. Haynes called on the Rectors of Sutton Mandeville, and also of Tisbury, Fovant, and Dinton, to see if some trace of Walter or his family could not be found. Being limited as to time, he made arrangements with the Rectors to search their respective Registers and write him the Haynes records therein. The Rector of Dinton wrote that the Registry of his parish dated from 1550, but "the early ones have suffered much from the damp of the church. The first fifty years are written in one of the worst Elizabethan hands." The Fovant Register begins 1541, but is not decipherable until about 1640, from that date until 1675 nothing regarding Hayneses. Similar results at Tisbury.

English law requires that the Rector of each parish send to his Bishop, transcripts of his parish Register. Salisbury, Co. Wilts, being the Cathedral town of the diocese, A. M. H., and D. F. H., engaged the Rev. F. J. Poynton, in 1882, to search the Transcripts at Salisbury. Those of Semley began 1626; Sutton Mandeville dated 1622, showing that some of the earlier records, at the parish church itself, had been lost; Mr. Poynton went over the Transcripts from Tisbury; Dinton; the Chapelry of Teffont Magna; Donhead St. Andrew; Donhead St. Mary; Biddeston, 1605-6; All Cannings, 1606; Corsley, 1609; Alderton, 1607-8; Broad Chalk, 1538. Rev. Mr. P. copied many entries of the various spellings of Hayme, Hayne, Heynes, etc., and of Gourd, Blanford, Rose, etc., but none of these appear to connect with Alce Hayne, or Walter or their families. The Parish Register of Warminster, Wilts, was searched from 1556-1758. No results.

Under supposition that John Hayne and his wife, might have joined the Puritans, the Registry of the church of that sect at Horningsham, was searched, that being the only really organized place of worship of that body in that part of England. No results. Date of Registers not given.

Next Messrs. H. and H. had search made of the Court Rolls of the Manor of Church Stretton, Co. Salop, also called Shropshire. Mr. Leighton held that all of the Shropshire families of Haynes and Haines sprang from this Church Stretton family, the name being found in this county for centuries. These "Manor Rolls" are most ponderous tomes and are written in contracted Latin. Mr. Leighton's fee was five guineas a day, besides his expenses, the fees charged for access to the Rolls, etc.

Mr. Leighton's first item, from search of the Church Stretton Manor Rolls, was dated 1527 (19 Henry VIII) when Thomas Eynes held land within the Manor, called "Eynes's meadow." The name occurs many times on the Rolls and by 1604 (2 James I) is spelled Heynes. After 1617 it disappears until 1656, when it is spelled Haynes. Then the name was not found again until 1698. No items seem to connect with the families of A. M. H. or D. F. H.

At some previous time Mr A. M. H. had had the parish register at Keevil, Wilts, searched, but nothing in re Haynes found. Same with Wills at Lichfield.

The old Wills of Wiltshire had been taken from Salisbury to London, where they are kept in the "Prerogative Consistory Court." So Messrs. H. and H. engaged Mr. T. C. Noble of London, to search the Wills. He writes of their being in "bundles," seemingly each year bundled by itself. He searched each year from about 1575 to 1680, finding in that space of time, 46 Wills made by those of the name of Haines, Haynes, Heynes, Hayme, in its varied spellings. The Will of Alice Hayne, the mother of Walter, was found among the Semley wills. (see page 10.) There were Wills of the name of Hayne, Haine, etc., from the following towns:—46 in all, from Wilts, Dorset, and Berks Co's:

From Co. Wilts, 33 of the name searched for; Aldrington, 1 Will; Bulkington, 2; Bursley, 1; Baverstock, 1; Bemerton, 1; Beddeston St. Nicholas, 1; Broad Somerford, 1; Corsley, 2; Cheselbury Delifolly, 1; Creeklad St. Maries, 1; Donhead St. Mary's, 1; Donhead St. Andrew, once spelled "Saynt Andree", 2 Wills; Field dean, 1; Fisherton Auger, 1; Hannington, 2; Honington, 1; Holnest, 1, this sent in with Wilts wills, later another will given for the same name for a place as in Co. Dorset; Keevil, 1; Melksham, 1; Maggot Mill, 1; New Sarum, 2; Netherhaven, 2; Semley, 1; Somerford Magna, 1; Sarum, 1; Staple Langford, 1; Winterborne Ford, 1; Wolverton, 1.

Among the Co. Berks Wills, Mr. Noble found 6 which were made by Hayneses, as follows: Abingdon, 1; Buscot, 1; Frillford, 1; New Windsor, 1; Reading, 1; Wantage, 1.

From the Dorset Co. Wills: Bere Regis, 1; Holnest, 1; Kingston, 1; Sherborne, 2; Winterborne, no Haynes Wills, but abstract was copied by Mr. N. of the Will of Aves Lambert, but it contains nothing to link her up with Alice Lambert, who m. John Hayne, 1575; Yetminster, 1. 7 Wills from Dorset, found by Mr. Noble in London.

The Mr. Rufus King before mentioned, found Hayne entries in the following parishes: in Co. Somerset, Baltonsborough, East Coker, Combe-Hay, Shapwick, Trull, Dundry and two parishes in Glastonbury. In Oxfordshire, Worminghall. Nothing of interest to us.

The foregoing research having exhausted all available sources in the parts of Wiltshire and Dorset connected with our ancestors, with such meagre results, Messrs. Haines and Haynes decided that the two hundred and fifty years which had passed since their ancestors left England had buried all traces of them. The editor thinks that a comparison of our knowledge of Walter and his family with that of many other colonists whose genealogy has been published, will show that we are more fortunate than most in what we know of our forbears. She hopes that some of Walter Haynes's descendants will have search made of Registers and Wills in County Devon, to see what can be unearthed there.

THE WILL OF ALICE HAYNE, THE MOTHER OF WALTER HAYNES

This Will was found in 1879, during the research in England, among the old Wills of Salisbury (Co. Wilts), which are now kept in the Prerogative Consistory Court, at Westminster, London, for safety. See Chapter on English Research, page 9. Semley is about four and three-fourths miles from Shafton, Dorset, where Walter Haynes owned a house, and not far from Sutton Mandeville, where he lived, just at the time he sailed for America. This Will is written on one page of one leaf folio paper, and not signed. This may be because it is a copy of the original, or it may be because legal forms were sometimes neglected in those days. As will be seen at the end of the Inventory, it is recorded there: "Will Proved in the Court of the Archdeacon of Sarum (Sarum was the Latin name for Salisbury) by the Ex'or named, the 2 March, 1623."

The Will:

Will Proved in the Court of the Archdeacon of Sarum by the Ex'or named, the 2 March, 1623.

The "partlett" mentioned was a band or ruff for the neck. "Posnet" a porringer. "Stinger" an extinguisher (for candles). We have not been able to find the meaning of "beins" or "haingrells."

The last name of Alce is here spelled Hayme, an error of the scribe or copyist. Elizabeth, the daughter of Walter, mentioned in the Will is undoubtedly the daughter who remained in England, when Walter and his family came to America, having married Roger Goard. To her Walter Haynes in his Will left his house in Shafton, Dorset. (see Will of Walter Haynes, Chapter 10.) Thomas, Suffrance and Mary "Hayme" (Haynes) came to America with their parents in 1638. John and Josiah Haynes, the other sons of Walter, were not born at time Will was made. The Marmaduke Read is probably one of that family of Reads who settled in Watertown, Mass., before Walter and family come to America, and with whom Dea. John² came over on his first voyage, according to the "Blue Book." John Blanford is one of those for whom Walter paid the passage money in the ship Confidence.

Notes by Frances Haynes:

The foregoing will, meagre as it seems to us, shows a comfortable living for those days. "The poets and intellectual chiefs have given a fictitious character to the Elizabethan age," as to education and home comforts. See "The Puritan in England, Holland and America," by Douglas Campbell. "Harrison, writing in 1580, tells us that in the early days of Elizabeth the mansion houses of country gentlemen were little better than cottages, except in size. They were lighted only by lattices. Outside of London, chimneys were very rare. The smoke of the open fire was allowed to escape either by the unglazed windows, or by an aperture in the roof." Floors were sanded or covered with rushes. Carpeting was used in the homes of some of the gentry, but was spread on tables, not floors. "In the latter days of Elizabeth, linen came into use for the table." See Alice's "III tab'l clothes and a hallf a dosen of napkins." China had not been dreamed of. "Farmers ate from platters of wood with spoons of the same material," (aided by fingers.) Alice had one spoon of silver, and plates or "dishes of pewter" and brass. "When the Earl of Northumberland wished for more dishes for extraordinary occasions, pewter ones were hired." "The better class of farmers slept on straw. An inventory of the furniture of Skipton Castle, which belonged to the Earl of Cumberland and was one of the most splendid mansions of the North, made in 1572, shows only six or seven beds in the castle. None of the chambers had chairs, window glass, or carpets." It is said that the most valuable furnishing of that time was the chests. Alice willed away "three chestes" and "five cofers." "The little coffer by my bed" is an interesting touch. Stools and forms (benches) were used for seats. The "tabell bord," was a board supported by trestles, forming a table.

The homes of the early settlers in New England, so carefully preserved today, have been filled with early colonial furniture and utensils presented to historical societies, giving an impression of multiplicity of belongings which is utterly at variance with the plainness of the homes of that period both in Old and New England.

PICTURES OF SUTTON MANDEVILLE.

All Saints Parish Church at Sutton Mandeville is an ancient structure in Norman style, and is still in good preservation. There are no dates to give the time of its erection. The old pulpit was restored more than fifty years ago. The old oak back to the same was preserved, and bears the date 1631. The Parish Register that is now in existence does not begin until 1654, and there are no entries of the name Hayne or Haynes. Though the Bishop's Transcript of the Register, preserved at Salisbury, begins 1622, it contains no Haynes entries, showing that probably Walter did not live in Sutton Mandeville at the time of the birth of his children. It is said that earlier records may have been destroyed at the time of the Commonwealth.

Of the homes in Sutton Mandeville, Mr. D. F. Haynes wrote after a visit there in 1880, that they seemed to be occupied by farmers and laborers. "They are very neat and comfortable, built of a durable stone, having the windows and gardens filled with flowers." Could find no traces of Walter Haynes. "I, from three thousand miles away, seemed to be the only person in England that knew that such a man had ever lived." There were none of the name of Haynes then living in Sutton Mandeville. At Shrewsbury, Westbury, Dinton, etc., Mr. Haynes interviewed several of the name, but not one seemed to have the slightest knowledge of his ancestry.

WALTER¹ HAYNES IN ENGLAND.

Walter¹ Haynes was born in Old England in 1583, but we have been unable to find the exact locality. He had been living in Sutton Mandeville, County of Wilts, before he sailed for New England. We cannot show the house where he lived, but we give a picture of a typical old English farm house in Sutton Mandeville and one of the old Parish Church in the village. (These are from photographs taken for Mr. D. F. Haynes.) The church probably has changed but little since Walter and his family attended services there. Naturally, we enquire why Walter¹ Haynes left his comfortable home in England to brave the discomforts of a two months voyage in a small ship, and the hardships and uncertainties of life in the new colony, located in what was then a wilderness. He had the means to pay the fares of himself and six of his family, and also those of the three men designated in the ship's papers as "servants." The term probably means they bound themselves to give a period of service in the new land, in return for the advance of their passage money. He also owned a tenement in Shafton, now Shaftesbury, in Dorsetshire, which by his Will, he later devised to his married daughter, Elizabeth, the wife of Roger Gourd, who remained in England. So we are warranted in the inference that the family was in prosperous circumstances. But at this time Charles the First vexed England with his tyrannies, and the people were greatly restricted by Laud in their religious freedom, so it seems quite possible that Walter and his fellow passengers, like those of the "Mayflower," sought "freedom to worship God."

WALTER¹ HAYNES IN NEW ENGLAND.

We find the names of Walter¹ Haynes and his family leading the Passenger List of forty-three names of those to sail in "the good ship the Confidence," on the "24 April 1638," from Southampton. This list also gives us his age, 55 years. There will be found the names of his wife and children, with the exception of Elizabeth his oldest daughter, wife of Roger Gourd, who remained in England. Then follow the names of three young men, spoken of as "servants" (see above.)

We note that here the name Haynes is spelled without the final "s." It is usually spelled Hayne on the Sudbury Records, but sometimes the "s" is added and his signature to his Will is twice signed "Walter Haynes." His sons use the "s" in most of the records we now find. At times, on Town Records, the name is spelled Hanes and Haines, but doubtless all are but the variations of recorders who, like the scribes of the day, were not strong on spelling. Walter Haynes' descendants have always spelled the name Haynes. The editor does not recall a single exception to this rule, while she has found many belonging to families who should spell their name Haines, using the "y."

The "Blue Book" referred to in Preface, etc., tells us that Walter and his family went first to Watertown, Mass., "and removed from thence the same year, or the next year, having obtained a grant from the General Court (as the Massachusetts Legislature is still called) of land for a township now called Sudbury, removed, and settled there."

The following brief records show some of the activities in which Walter Haynes bore an important part. These are copied from the Massachusetts State Records at Boston, Mass., and from the Sudbury Town Records.

1639, 4 Sept.: "At a General Court holden at Boston 4th, 7th m. 1639, it was ordered that ye newe plantation by Concord be called Sudbury."

"The order of the Court upon the petetion of the inhabitants of Sudbury is that . . . Walter Hayne and (other names not copied here) have comision to lay out lands to the p'sent inhabitants according to their estates and persons."

We find that Walter Haynes, John Haynes and John Blanford were among the original grantees or settlers of the Sudbury Plantation.

"1638 - ye 9th month ye 14 day. All ye land formerly given to Thomas Cakebread is confirmed to him by the freemen of ye town, wee set our hand." Peter Noyes, Brian Pendleton, Walter Haynes, Edmund Rice. Land had been granted said Thomas Cakebread, in consideration of his building a grist mill. Mills did not then convert grain into the finished flour we know. Their work ended with grinding it into meal. "Bolting" the meal was a domestic duty, accomplished by means of hair or cloth sieves.

"On ye 20th daye of ye last month 1639" (this would be 20 Feb. 1639, as the year began then with March) Walter Hayne with 5 others "accordinge to ye power granted us by Commission" signed an agreement as to the division of "ye meddows of ye towne of Sudbury." Ye 22'd day of ye last month (Feb.) 1639 "it is ordered and agreed that whereas wee have a levy to gather some money to pay for the purchase of our plantation and allsoe other rates for divers ocaysons wee doe order that oure rates shall be gathered accordinge to such quantity of meddowes as are granted to the inhabitants of the towns etc., etc.," signed by five names among them Walter Haynes.

1640, 18 Feb. It is ordered and agreed that "hoggs and piggs"—shall not goe about the towne without yokes and rings in theare noses—signed by four townsmen, the second being Walter Hayne. The next year it was agreed that hogs going at large should be "ridd out of the town" or owner fined.

"Walter Hayne, Commissioner at Sudbury 7th Oct., 1640, Mr. Peter Noyse, Walter Hayne and John Parmiter authorized to end small business at Sudbury under 20 shillings."

1641, 29 Jan. The townsmen agreed upon wages to be paid for hauling, mowing and sawing timber, for carpenters, bricklayers, thatchers and common laborers. "It is also ordered that a yearly covenante servant, the best of them, shall take but five pounds for a year's service; the mayd servants, the best of them, shall take but fifty shillings for a year's service. Signed Peter Noyes, Brian Pendleton, Walter Hayne, Edmond Goodnow, John Bent, John Parmenter, John Ruddock. A law enjoined on the whole Province, similar to the foregoing had been passed by the First General Court, held Aug. 23, 1630.

In 1641 Walter Hayne was made freeman. For the meaning of the same see the chapter on Dea. John² Haynes.

Feb. 4, 1641, Walter Hayne, deputy to the General Court (the Legislature) of the Province held at Boston—also Aug. 10, 1642, March 7, 1643/4, May 6, 1646, May 10, 1648 and 1651. The term was for two years.

10 Dec. 1641. The General Court appoints Walter Hayne clerk of the Writs for Sudbury. From State Records in Boston.

1642, 4 Feb. we find Walter Hayne one of the six townsmen to sign a contract with John Rutter for the erection of a meeting house.

Contract with John Rutter for building the first Meeting-House.

Feb 27, 1642

"It is agreed between the townsmen of this town on the one part and John Rutter on the other part, that the said John Rutter for his part, shall fell, saw, hew and frame a house for a meeting-house thirty foot long, twenty foot wide, eight foot between joint three foot between stude, two cross dorments in the house six clear story windows, two with four lights apiece, and four with three lights apiece, and to ententise between the stude, which frame is to be made ready to raise the first week in May next

John Rutter.

And the town for their part do covenant to draw all the timber to place, and to help to raise the house being framed, and also to pay to the said John Rutter for the said work six pounds, that is to say, three pound to be paid in corn at three shillings a bushel, or in money, in and upon this twenty sevinth day, of this present month, and the other three pounds to be paid in money, corn and cattle to be prized by two men of the town, one to be chosen by the town and the other to be chosen by John Rutter, and to be paid at the time that the frame is by the said John Rutter finished.

1643, 1st Feb. we find "Mr. Pendleton and Walter Hayne desired by ye towne" to gather the pastor's salary of 30 pounds (a year) to be gathered by rate, and to be paid unto him in 2 several payments.

Nov. 13th, 1643. Walter Hayne is mentioned as one of five men to select a site for a "cart bridge" over the Sudbury River. Later he is one of three to sign a contract in behalf of the town, with Ambrose Leach, for building said bridge.

1644, 25 April. "It is ordered that Mr. Noyce, Walter Hayne, Edward Rice, Brian Pendleton, William Warde, John Goodnow, and Edward Goodenow have power granted them by the towne to dispose of the towne affairs for one year from this present, with discretionary power to dispose of the publick lands not exceeding 6 acres to any one person." This is the first town record of the office of Selectman. They were first called by the title about 1648.

25 June 1644—"The Towne hath granted to Walter Hayne liberty to look out ten acres of Upland to dispose of to his servant, Richard Bidlecom, when his time is out"

1645, 5 November—Walter Haynes was one of 5 men to sign a contract regarding the payment for seats in said meeting-house.

1646, 15 Feb.—"Walter Hayne hath liberty to lay down twenty acres of land formerly granted, etc. and to take it up elsewhere, where he can find it convenient."

In 1646 it seems that the inhabitants were this year under apprehensions of danger from the Indians, for on the 9 day of the 1 mo 1646 a barrel of powder and bullets were procured for defense, and entrusted to the care of Walter Haynes. It is very probable that the Haynes Garrison House was built this year or the next with defensive features in its construction. See chapter on Haynes Garrison House.

16 March 1646—"It is agreed by consent of ye town that Whereas Walter Hayne is bound to ye country for a barrel of powder ye town doth hereby promise to free him from all damage that may arise by his engagement for the same powder, he, the said Walter Hayne bearing a part as a townsman if any detriment or casualty shall come to ye same powder."

21 December 1646—"It is ordered that noe oake tymber shall be fallen without leave from those that are appoyented by the town to give leave" etc., etc., and Walter Hayne and Edmund Goodenow are appointed to give leave.

In 1647 Walter Hayne and John Groute are appointed to "lay out a cow common (reservation for pasturage) for the town, on the west side of the Sudbury River, from Goodman Darnill's meadow to the west line."

1648, 26 January—"It is agreed by the towne that the meeting-house shall be enlarged by building ten foote out on the fore side of it. . . . It is also ordered that the back side of the meeting house shall be mended and made handsome." Walter Hayne and five others are to "let out the work and see it finished."

So from Walter Haynes's activity in the affairs of the church we feel sure he was an active member thereof. As has been mentioned he was also a Freeman. At this time church membership was a necessary qualification for admission as Freeman (see chapter on Dea. John² Haynes.)

20 April 1648—Walter Hayne and Hugh Griffin make a contract with the Indian Cato for the purchase of a second tract of land for the town. The price paid the Indian was "fyve pounds in comodities and wompomege."

26 May 1648—Walter Hayne and Robert Darnill “were chosen for one yeare to oversee the making and mending of all the highwayes in the towne.”

26 May 1648—“Walter Hayne and Hugh Griffin are appoynted to goe downe to the Govenour and Magistrates to confirm the bargains of land now being bought of the Indian Cato or Goodman, etc., and they shall be payd for their labor.”

1 Oct. 1648—“It is agreed in a general Towne meetinge that Walter Hayne shall have five shillings, sixpence, for his going to Boston.”

1650—Walter Hayne and Edmond Rice were appointed “to goe downe to Watertowne about Watertowne business” etc.

1650 Edmund Rice and Walter Hayne were appointed “to take an inoyse of the town.”

In 1657 an additional tract of land which had been granted to the town was divided among fifty of the citizens. Third upon the list of names stands that of Walter Hayne; among others are his sons, John Hayne and Josiah Hayne.

Walter Haynes made his Will, 25 May 1659 and added a Codicil, 4 March 1663/4. The summary is given below. He died 14 February 1664/5, aged 82.

Of Elizabeth, the wife of Walter Haynes, we know nothing further than that, as before mentioned, she came to the Massachusetts Bay Colony, in the Confidence, with her husband and children, in 1638. She is mentioned several times in her husband's Will, as a legatee, and she died in Sudbury, 15 June 1659. We think that she merited the old-time name of "help-meet" for the record of her husband and children seems to point beyond question to a good wife and mother.

Surely these records show us a man, public-spirited and honored by his townsmen. We also see that he was a brave man. He was one of the first to remove to the west side of the Sudbury River, where the danger from attack by wolves and Indians was greatest. We have reason to think this ancestor of ours was well educated for his day. The inventory of his will shows he had "Bookes" valued at £4, rather more of a library than one would expect a "linen weaver" in the New World to have owned. He takes his place in the new community beside "Mr" Peter Noyes, "Capt" Edmund Goodnow, etc. He is made Town Clerk, Selectman, Representative to the General Court (the Legislature of the Province), is "appoynted to goe downe" to Boston on "the Town's business," etc. If he had been a linen weaver as entered on the ship's papers he was surprisingly well educated for that trade and time. At the two hundred and fiftieth Anniversary of the Incorporation of Sudbury, held the 4th of Sept. 1889, the Rev. Alfred S. Hudson, the writer of the "History of Sudbury," etc., said: "Walter Haynes, Peter Noyes, John Blanford, John Bent, and John Rutter, representative men in the Sudbury settlement were a type of the historic Puritan."

EXTRACTS FROM THE WILL OF WALTER HAYNES OF SUDBURY, MASS.

Copied from the original, which is filed at Probate Office, Middlesex Co., E. Cambridge, Mass., No. 10939, Registry of Probate. This will was written 25 May 1659, and signed by Walter Haynes, then, evidently without witnesses. As seen further on, he later signs before witnesses. He disposes of his property as follows:

"First, I do give to my wife Elizabeth my house wherein I now do dwell, with the orchards barne outhouses, and also all the thirty three acres wherein the said houses stand," and after her death he wills that they "shall remayne and be to my Sonne Josiah Haynes his heyres forever as his or their propper inheritance." To his son John he gives "All the lands in Sudbury w^{ch} were sometime owned by my sonne Thomas Haynes." He also gives to John several pieces of meadow, containing 11, 2 4, and 10 acres, and upland 20, 10 acres, and "the full one halfe of my great lott in the new grant," also "the full one halfe of my meadow lying and being on the great river in Sudbury, that is to say halfe the peece of meadow lying east on the house of Thomas Plympton, John Haynes, and my owne now dwelling house, and my will is that my sonne John Haynes shall have the north side of the said great river meadow." He then bequeaths to his son Josiah "the full one halfe of my meadow in the great river meadow having my now dwelling house, and the house of John Haynes my sonne on the west, my will is that my said sonne Josiah Haynes his heyres or assigns shall forever enjoy the south part of said meadow" (see map). He then gives him "my old house lott on the east side of Sudbury River," with six acres of land, also other pieces of meadow, 20 acres on east side of river, "the full one halfe of my new grant lott, th^e other halfe of the said lott being disposed to my sonne John Haynes." He gives 6 acres of upland to his son in law Thomas Noyes. He gives to his wife Elizabeth, "all the cattell, horses, mares, colts, in stuffe, moveable goods." His wearing apparel he leaves to his son John. After his wife's death her portion is to be equally divided between his four children in New England, viz: John and Josiah Haynes, Suffrance Treadway, and Mary Noyes, "and furthermore having left a deed in the hands of my sonne in law Roger Gourd, of a house or tenem't in the towne of Shafton in Dorsetshire in Old England, I will and bequeath the said deed and tenem't to my daughter Gourd and her heyres forever." He constitutes "my sonne John Haynes sole execut^r."

WAS WALTER HAYNES A MEMBER OF THE ANCIENT & HONORABLE ARTILLERY CO. OF BOSTON?

Written by Frederic M. Haynes

He is on their records as a member, but as there has been a question as to the accuracy of this record, we have endeavored to find a definite answer to the question, with the following results:

Whitman's History of A. & H. A. Co. published in 1820, page 150, does not include the name of Walter Haynes. It gives the name of (Andrew Harris) enclosed in parentheses, which means that there is a doubt as to the correctness of the name. In the second edition of Whitman's History of A. & H. A. Co. published in 1842, page 97, is this record:

"Capt. Walter Haines; freeman 1640—in the former edition 'Andrew Harris.' There is no Christian name on the old roll, and the surname will much better read Haines, although very badly written" (probably by a clerk of the Co.). "The name is spelt by Farmer, 'Haynes,' which is the most correct. Walter Haynes was freeman in 1640, and Representative 1641-1644-1648-1651, one of the Selectmen of Sudbury ten years, and died Feb. 14, 1665."

History of A. & H. A. Co. published in 1895, page 85, states, "Twenty one members were added to the Company in 1639-40. Among them is the name Walter Haynes. Roll of Members of A. & H. A. Co. 1638-1894 published in 1895 gives "Walter Haines 1639" as a member. Hist. of A. & H. A. Co. 1896, page 90, says, "This name is given in the oldest record book as 'Mr. ——— Haines.' Mr. Whitman concluded it was Walter Haynes of Sudbury. It might have been Gov. John Haynes of Connecticut. It does not seem possible to decide which became a member of the Company."

These are all the records we have been able to discover, either at the rooms of the Company, or at the Mass. State Library, in the State House. We can find no "Andrew Harris" recorded in any military organization of those times, which eliminates him. There was no "Capt." on the record which gave the name as "Andrew Harris" and we find that Walter was not a Captain in the A. & H. A. Co. nor in any military organization in the colony. We have the following confirmation of this statement: "Walter Haynes was not chosen to any military office by the General Court."—F. W. Cook, Sec' to Commonwealth of Mass. (1927). The title "Capt." seems to be entirely unwarranted, and does not belong there. The foregoing statement by F. W. Cook proves conclusively the error in the inscription on the marker placed by the D. A. R. at the site of the Haynes Garrison, when it states that Walter Haynes was a Colonel in the Middlesex Regiment.

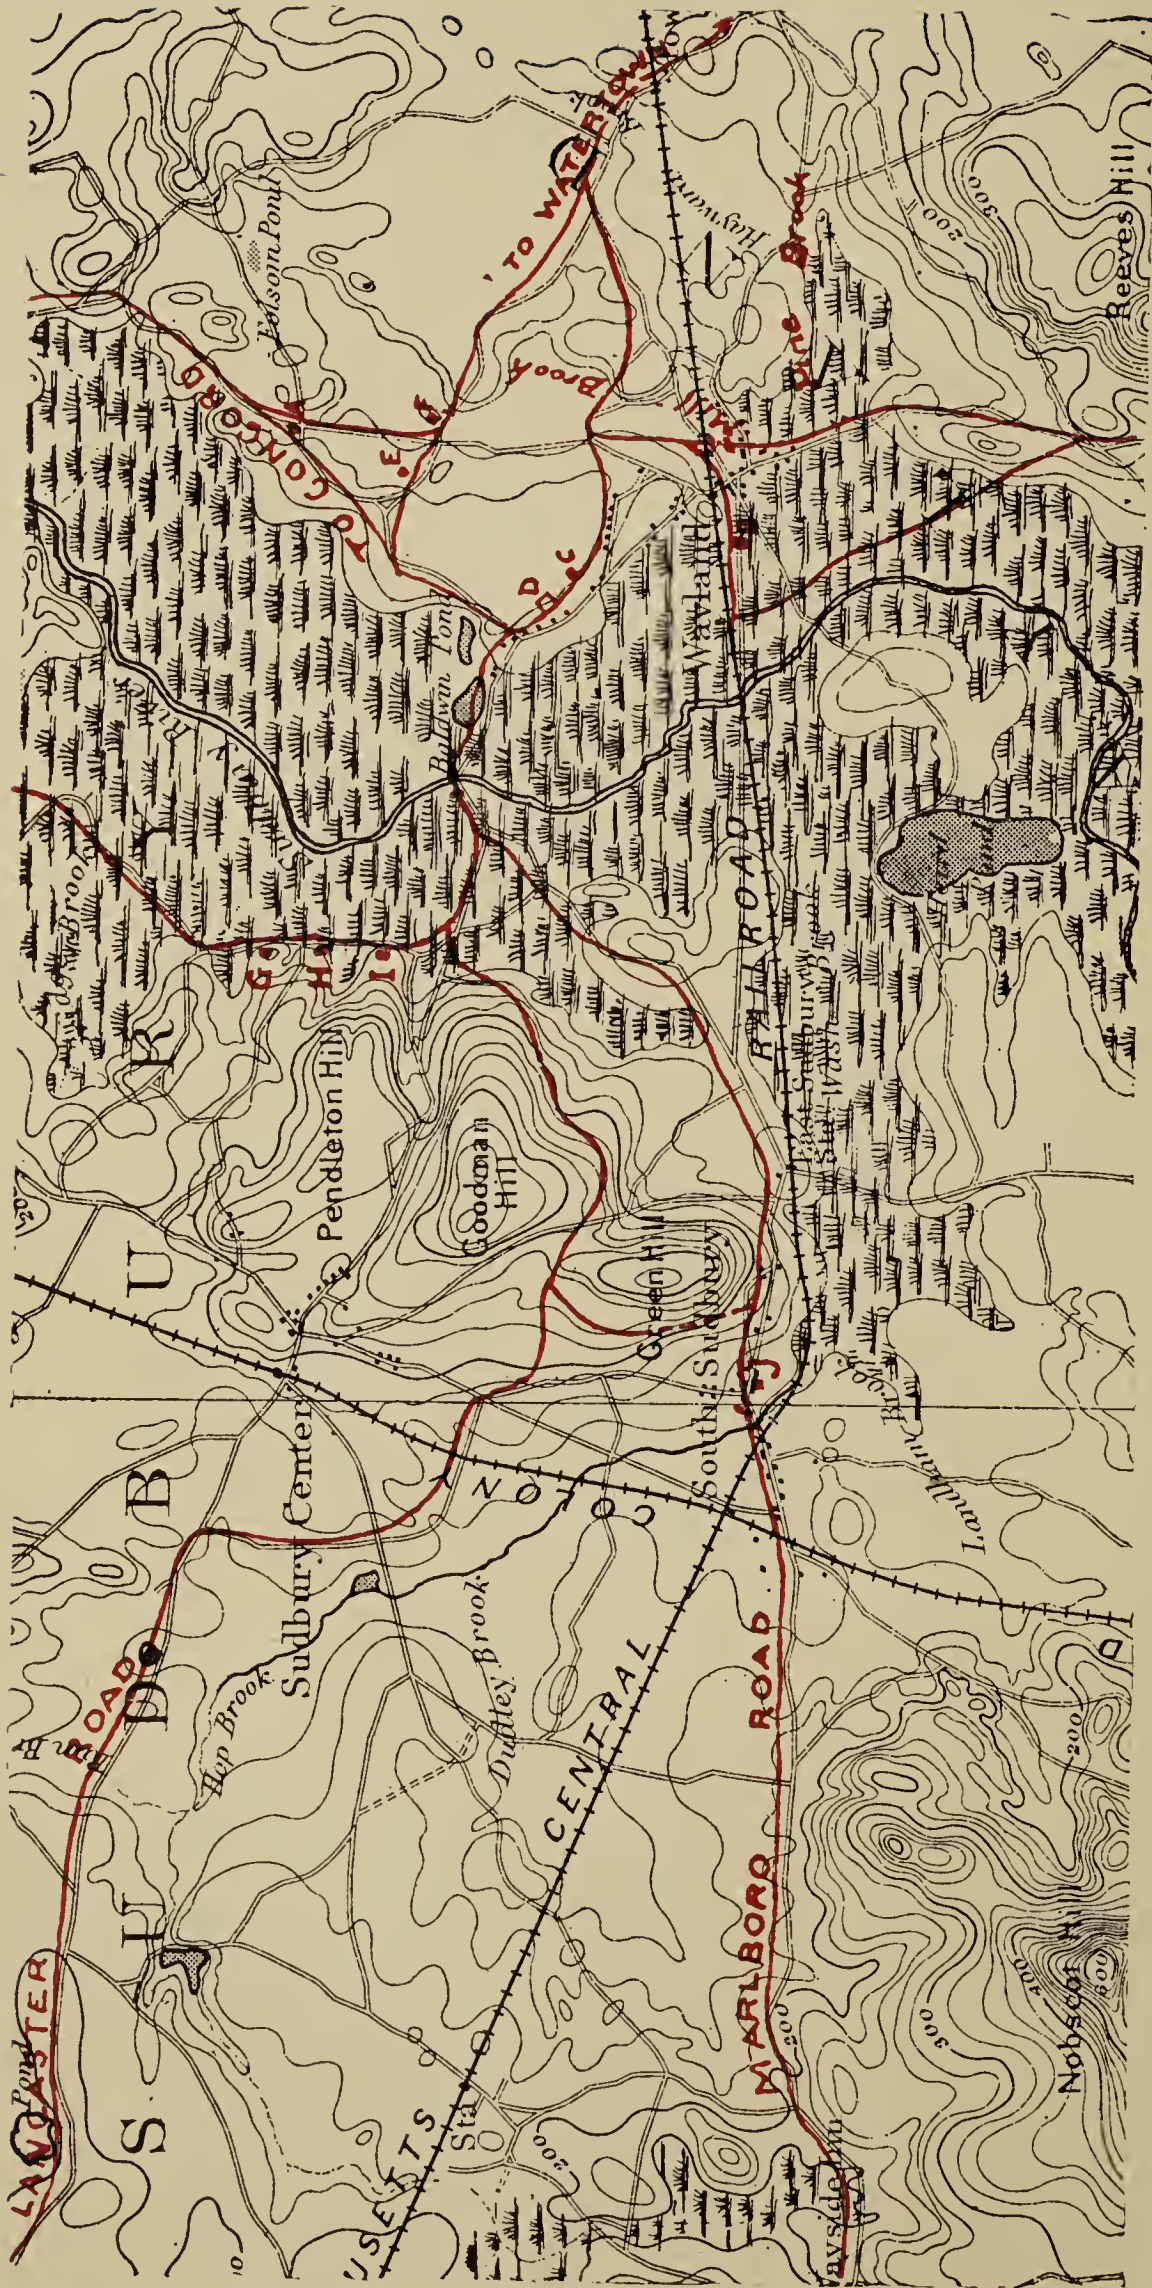

John Haynes was Governor of Massachusetts May 6, 1635 till May 25, 1636, but moved to Hartford, Conn., May 2, 1637. The A. & H. A. Co. was not organized until 1638 and it is not at all probable that Gov. Haynes would have joined a military organization so far removed as Boston, when he had left Massachusetts and made Hartford, Conn., his home for the future. Also, if it was Gov. Haynes he would surely not be recorded as "Mr. Haynes." We think this eliminates Gov. John Haynes from our records. Now as to the probability of Walter having been a member. We know he was living on the very outskirts of civilization, the wilderness beyond being filled with Indians, and he must have felt the necessity for defensive measures. He was without military training. The A. & H. A. Co. was being formed, and no doubt was the talk of the town, and Walter, on his visits to Boston for supplies, must have heard much about it, and was probably importuned to join. It seems very reasonable that he should do so, and as their published "Roll of Membership" has him recorded as one of the new members in 1639 and their "History of the A. & H. A. Co.," published in 1842, also records him, we think these records may be accepted as correct.

LOCATION OF WALTER HAYNES' SECOND HOUSE

Written by Frederic M. Haynes

The exact location of Walter's second house is not known. The Haynes Garrison House was thought to have been Walter's, and in Hudson's History of Sudbury, page 199, it says: "it is supposed to have been erected by Walter Haynes, and was repeatedly referred to as Mr. Haynes' old house," but the Old Petition for remuneration for losses sustained in the Indian attack on the Garrison House says "The enemy with greate force.& fury assaulted Deacon Haines' house" etc., and in the list of damages there given is "Deacon John Haines £180." As the writers of the Old Petition knew who lived in the Garrison House we think this is conclusive evidence that it belonged to John, and not to Walter.

 FROM HISTORY OF SUDBURY PP 77 & 236

Old Time Map of Part of Sudbury, Mass.

Walter was one of the first to settle on the west side of the river, and we find in 1646 he was granted liberty "to run a fence from his meadow, which lies on the west side of the river, across the highway to his fence of his upland at his new dwelling house, provided that Walter Hayne do keep a gate at each side of his meadow for the passing of carts and herds along the highway, that his fence may not be prejudicial to the town." This indicates that his house was situated similarly to the Garrison House, with the road passing between the house and the river meadows. (See picture of Garrison House.)

From Walter's Will we get a very definite location of his new home. The will locates him as in the next house to the south of the Garrison House. From the Will we learn:

"Also, I will and bequeath unto my sonne John Haynes his heyres and assignes the full one halfe of my meadow lying and being on the great river in Sudbury, that is to say halfe the peece of meadow lying east on the house of Thomas Plimpton John Haynes and my owne now dwelling house and my will is that my sonne John Haynes shall have the north side of the said great river meadow." . . .

"Also I do will and bequeath to him the said Josiah Haynes, the full one halfe of my meadow in the great river meadow, having my now dwelling house and the house of John Haynes my sonne on the west, my will is that my said sonne Josiah Haynes, his heyres or assigns, shall forever injoy the south part of the said meadow."

This indicates that Thomas Plympton's house was to the north of Deason John's, or the Garrison House, and Walter's was to the south of it.

It is interesting to note that the three Noyes sisters were living side by side in the three houses on the west side of the meadows: Thomas Plympton and Abigail Noyes, Deacon John Haynes and Dorothy Noyes, Josiah Haynes and Elizabeth Noyes (see map), and the children of these three families grew up amid surroundings like those we see in the picture of the Haynes Garrison House, for this part of Sudbury has changed very little even in three hundred years.

Walter was living in his new house in 1646 and as he was one of the first to locate on that side of the river, the probability is that the Garrison House was built one or two years later, or about 1647 or 1648.

Walter's house was probably located where a building of more recent construction stands in 1928, which may have been erected on the same foundation, for we do not find any cellar hole to indicate a different site.

As a result of the thorough research which has been made in preparing these records, we have been able to settle definitely some matters about which there has been uncertainty. We find, as above shown, that the Haynes Garrison House in Sudbury, which was supposed to belong to Walter, was in reality the home of his son Deacon John. The Wayside Inn Chapter of the D. A. R., with patriotic intent, has placed a stone marker to show the location of the Haynes Garrison House. The stone marks the correct location of the Garrisson House, but the inscription states that it was Walter's house. As it was not Walter's house, and as we find from later information that some of the other statements on the tablet are incorrect, we feel obliged to mention these facts.

DEACON JOHN HAYNES—1621-1697.

(6) Deacon John² Haynes was born in England in 1621. Before the year 1772, John⁴ Haynes, a grandson of Deacon John,² wrote a genealogy of the Haynes and Noyes families from their landing in the Massachusetts Bay Colony, to his time. (See Chap. on same.) This begins: "Our grandfather, John Haynes, was born in Old England in the year 1621, and came over when he was sixteen years of age, one year into this country before his father, Walter Haynes, and so lived one year at Watertown with one Cousin Reed, viz: in the year 1637. The next year, 1638, came over our great-grandfathers, Walter Haynes and Peter Noyes." (The "Cousin Reed" is probably one of the "Reads" mentioned in the Will of Alice Hayne, 1620.") This old Chronicle does not state that John² Haynes returned to England, and came over in the "Confidence" in 1638, with his father and the rest of the family, but we know this to be the case from the ship's papers, which read "Walter Hayne etc.; Eliz. Hayne, his wife; Thomas Hayne, John Hayne, Josias Hayne, their sonnes under XVI yeares of age;" etc. The old Chronicle gives 1621 as the year of John's birth, while the papers of the "Confidence" read, "under sixteen yeares of age." This may have been carelessness on the part of writer of the ship's papers.

The Old Chronicle above referred to, tells us that Walter Haynes and the rest of the family on landing went to Watertown, Mass., and moved from there to Sudbury, either that same year (1638) or the next. The following facts are copied from the Sudbury Town Records except where otherwise indicated.

The names Walter Hayne and John Hayne appear on the list of the original 54 Grantees of the town about 1638 or '39.

18 Sept. 1639. An additional grant of land was given to the town, and John Hayne received a share, his portion being 57 acres.

13 Oct. 1642 John Hayne married Dorothy Noyes, daughter of Peter Noyes. (See Chap. on Peter Noyes.) They had twelve children, who are mentioned in latter part of this chapter, in the reference to the will.

John probably lived with his father at the extreme northern part of the town, until he was married, and then he had a house of his own near the church. (See map.) After his father located on the west side of the river, John followed him. Walter was living in his new house in 1646 and it is very probable that John's house was built a year or two later, or about 1647-8. This was the house that was afterwards known as the "Haynes Garrison House," which we learn from the "Old Petition" and from Walter's will, and was the next house to the north of where Walter had located. (See map.)

John was very active in church matters, and was a Deacon in the Sudbury church on the east side, from 1666 until his death in 1697. He was always known as "Deacon Haynes."

9 July 1645 John Haynes and Josiah Haynes took the Oath of Fidelity. This "Oath of Fidelitie" reads as follows:

"I beinge by God's providence an inhabitant within this jurisdiction doe truely and sincerely acknowledge myself to be subject to the goverment of the same. And therefore doe here swear by the great and dreadful name of the ever livinge God that I will be true and faithfull to the same, and will accordindly yield Assistance thereunto with my person and estate as in equity I am bound. And will allsoe truely endeavor to maintayne and preserve the libertyes and privileges thereof submitinge myself to the wholesome lawes made and established by the same. And further that I will not plott nor practise any evil against it, nor consult with any that shall soe doe, but will tymely discover the same to lawfull Authority now here established for the suppressinge of the same soe helpe mee God in the Lord Jesus Christ."

This "Oath of Fidelitie" is published in "Colonial Laws" by Wm. H. Whitmore, 1889, but exact date in which framed not given.

In 1646 John Haynes was made a freeman. The term "freeman" signified in Massachusetts at that date a fully qualified voter. The chief requirement was membership in a duly recognized church. Membership signified admission to the church corporation. It did not refer to attendance at worship. Everyone physically able attended church whether a member or not.

In 1657 an additional grant of two square miles was added to Sudbury, and Walter, John and Josiah Haynes received a share.

"On 18 May 1664, John Haynes and Josiah Haynes of Sudbury, and Nathaniel Treadway with Thomas Noyes petitioned the General Court of Mass. for the right to establish a Settlement at Quinsigamond. Oct. 11, 1665, the Great and General Court appointed a Committee to view the country, make survey and determine, 'if there be a meet place for a plantation.'" (Lincoln's History of Worcester. Appendix, page 10.)

From land records in Boston State House, under date of 1664, we find:

First, a Plan showing a survey of land near "quansigamogg pond," now Lake Quinsigamond near Worcester, Mass.

Then a deed reads—"This tract supposed within these lines contains three thousand and eighty acres of land together with two islands at the southwest. Sayd tract contains one hundred acres, as also twenty acres of midow in two pieces" etc., etc. "This tract of land was layd out in the year 1664 unto John Hains, Josiah Hains of Sudbury and Nathaniel Treadway of Watertown (brother-in-law of two afore mentioned.)"

From History of Concord, Mass., by A. S. Hudson: "Lieut. Joseph Wheeler petitioned the General Court in 1662 for a grant of 200 A. of land at southerly part of their plantation, (Nashoba Indians) but it was refused. In 1669 he and several inhabitants of Concord petitioned for land at Pompasiticut. The Court appointed him with John Haynes of Sudbury, Wm. Herley of Marlborough, James Parker of Groton, and John Moore of Lancaster, a Committee to view it and report at their next session. Report made 11 May 1670, tract found 'to contain 10,000 A. of country land, whereof 500 is meadow.' "

In 1674 a settlement was made here at Quinsigamond, which in 1675 was destroyed by the Indians. 1684 a second attempt at a settlement was made, and called Worcester.

"The land bought at Quinsigamond was the Nowell grant, which was bought by John and Josiah Haynes of Sudbury, Nathaniel Tredway of Watertown, and Thomas Noyes of Sudbury, 18 May 1664. It was on the East side of the Lake, and included two of the southern islands, near the outlet of the Nipnapp (Blackstone) River." (Reminiscences of Worcester, by Caleb A. Wall.)

By his will dated 1 Oct. 1692, Deacon John leaves "my lands at Quansigamog—with my wife and with my son David, my executor."

At some later date either part or all of this tract of land at Lake Quinsigamond became the property of Charles⁵ Haynes, a great-grandson of Dea. John,² and grandson of Peter³ Haynes who was a brother of David³ here mentioned. Charles⁵ lived here on a farm, and also his son Daniel⁶ Haynes. After the death of Daniel⁶ (about 1823) his sons John⁷ and Daniel⁷ sold the property. We obtained this information from Mrs. Caroline L.⁸ Hall whose mother, Mary Haynes⁷ Parker, was a sister of John⁷ and Daniel.⁷

From Reminiscences of Worcester, by Caleb A. Wall, Chap. 1: "Second Attempted Settlement. Captain Henchman dying in 1686 and Captain Gookin in 1687, both then ranking as Generals, their places on the committee having in charge the settlement were supplied by the appointment of Capt. Joseph Lynde, and Deacon John² Haynes of Sudbury and Col. Adam Winthrop of Boston, a brother and near relative of Gov. John Winthrop."

"Oct. 13, 1713, Jonas Rice and Gershom Rice, husband of Esther Haynes, petitioned the General Court in regard to a 3'd attempt at a Settlement at Worcester. From 1713 to 1715 Jonas Rice's family were the solitary inhabitants of this then wilderness, for 15 or 20 miles around. Gershom Rice came in 1715."

"About 1718 David³ Haynes was one of the grantees in the Third Settlement at Worcester. He sold his land there 5 Mar. 1721-2 to Obadiah Ward of Sudbury."

In 1666 the town chose seven new Selectmen, among whom were "Deacon" John Haynes and "Sergeant" Josiah Haynes.

We find John serving many terms. As late as 1690 and 91 a "John Haynes" was elected Selectman, but whether this is John Senior, or his son John, born 1649, we cannot say. There were four John Hayneses in succession: John born 1621—John born 1649—John born 1684—John born 1712. Also a John born 1774, who was a son of Samuel, son of John born 1712, and a John born 1789, descended through Deacon John's son Peter. A John born 1802, son

Mr. D. F. Haynes had in his possession two deeds of survey, probably made out by Deacon John,² as they are signed by him. One bears the date of 1684; the other deed bears the same signature, but it is not dated.

One of these deeds is shown here reproduced from the original. The paper on which the first one was written was torn where it had been folded at the end of the lines and the words that were written on that piece is missing. The first record reads:

1672—"Ordered that Mr. Peter Noyes, Mr. Joseph Noyes, Sargent John Rutter, Deacon John Haynes, Thomas Plympton and William Moore shall be surveyors for the clearing of the river and are invested with power to call forth men upon the said work."

Now come the dreadful days of King Philip's War. For Dea. John's part in same, see the Chap. on Attack on Sudbury.

1678—"Ordered that the next Lord's day there be a free contribution asked and collected by Deacon John Haynes, for and towards carrying and charge of Preaching, upon the sickness of Mr. Edmund Brown, Pastor, that the pulpit may be supplied notwithstanding, after the best manner that may be obtained."

In 1679 six tything men were appointed to take account of the various pieces of land owned by persons living in the town and also by those dwelling elsewhere—practically to act as the assessors do at the present day. These records were sent together with the list of troopers in and about town, by Deacon Haines, commissioner, to Cambridge.

By 1683 the town had so far recovered from its losses that the question of building a new meeting house was discussed.

On 6 October 1686 "It is determined, ordered and voted that a new meeting-house bee built within this town," etc.

The business of building the meeting-house was entrusted to Deacon John² Haynes, and it was to cost two hundred pounds, one hundred and sixty pounds of it to be paid in "country pay and at country price" and the other forty pounds to be paid in money. The country pay was to be in "good sound merchantable Indian corn or Rye, or wheat, or barley, or malt, or Peas, or Beef, or Pork, or work, or in such other pay as the said Deacon Haines shall accept of any person."

10 Jan. 1687—"The Committee agreed with Lef't Dan' Pond of Dedham and his son Dan' to build a square house in all respects for dimensions, strength, shape, necessities and conveniences as Dedham meeting house," etc. "To be completely finished on or before the 1 Jan. 1688." The Committee agreed to give the said Pond 200 pounds, etc.

21 March 1688—"Voted, agreed and determined that the town doe and will pay the second payment now due to Deacon John Haynes, for his labor and pains about the new meeting house and bee forthwith made and payd to Lef't Daniel Pond whom the said Deacon Haynes hath made his lawful assigne as by hand and seal doth appeare."

10 Jan. 1693/4—"Granted by the town of Sudbury unto Mr. James Sherman, our minister, five acres of meddow or low land etc., laid out and staked by marked trees on all sides by Dea. John Haynes and Serj. John Rutter."

1689—John Haynes not taxed "considering the hand of God that hath been long upon him."

What this misfortune was we cannot say. The Old Chronicle by his grandson tells that his son Daniel "was pressed and sent a soldier to the Eastward, a single man in the year 1687; returned back as far as Boston and so died there in the year 1688." Deacon John in his Will, 1 Oct. 1692 speaks of himself as "being at present, though weak and crasey in body yet in my memory and understanding good and perfect, blessed be God for it." So the release from taxation may be because of physical burdens.

His Will was recorded 29 March 1697. Deacon John's death probably occurred early that year, the exact date we do not know.

Summary of the Will of Deacon John² Haynes.

The will was drawn "in the year one thousand six hundred ninety & two and the first day of Octob'." As to his condition he says "being at present though weak and crasey in body yet in my memory and understanding good and perfect blessed be God for it." He makes the following disposition of his estate.

"Those of my children whom I have married away and appor-tioned out to them lands and other estate, as John, Peter Elizabeth Mary and Dorothy, my mind and will is that they hold and enjoy ye same, they, & theirs forever." He gives his son James "the place he, James, now lives upon," with several pieces of land, orchards and meadow. Then he bequeaths to "my now wife my dwelling house, barn, orchards, all the land joining with it that is mine, also all my piece of meadow on ye east side of the highway," and several other pieces of meadow and upland, "I will and bequeath to my now wife Dorothy during her natural life, or so long as she remaine my widow. All these premises I give to my sonne David to be his inheritance and his heirs forever, after his mother's decease. And my will is further yt my sonne David live with his mother, and use and enjoy the estate together and take ye Care of his mother as long as she remaine my widow. And further, my house and land at ye New Grant, the meadow I bought with it as also my lands at Quansigamog, with all sort of my Cattle, with all my household goods and moveables, I leave with my wife and with my son David my executor." He then gives his daughters Rachel and Ruth twenty pounds apiece, and to David a further bequest of "a yoke of Oxen and two Cows" also my wearing apparell and my surveying instuments, and my book of survey, and my Bible and Doctor Pressons work upon faith effectual faith and love." The rest of his estate he leaves to his wife to disposed of among his children, and appoints "my dear Wife Dorothy and my son David my executors."

"In witness hereof I have hereunto set my hand and Seal the day and year above written in ye fourth year of their Majesties Reign.

In the spring of the year in which this Will was written, had raged the fearful witchcraft delusion, which had so roused the fanaticism and cruelty of the colonists. Surely Deacon John must have been a lovable old man to have read in such turbulent times: "Dr. Presson's work upon faith, effectual faith and love." We see also, that like his father and brother Josiah, he sought to serve his fellow men in church, town and State affairs. He was, like them, thrifty and fearless, a good husband and father, as well as a patriot.

THE HAYNES GARRISON HOUSE

The commonly-accepted pictures of the Haynes Garrison House, Sudbury, Massachusetts, which represent it as a rather narrow, high building, are not correct, as it had a broad front, and was low-studded. At the request of some of the old residents of Sudbury, a picture of the house has been painted, by Frederic Marshall Haynes, from description by those who remember it—which shows the building as it really was. The cellar walls, which are well preserved (1928) show the proportions of the house to have been 42 feet front and 25 feet deep, with a single central chimney, and we know that all buildings of the period when this house was built, (about 1647) were low-studded. The well-hole, which is still there, indicates the location of the water supply. The location of the house and surrounding country was photographed on the spot.

Mrs. Martha A. King, whose maiden name was Martha Robinson, was born in the house, and lived there until she was nearly sixteen years old. She says of Mr. Haynes' picture: "I think it is a fine picture, it is perfectly true. It is as real to me as though I stood before the house itself."

Mr. John J. McCann was born in the house in 1860, and lived there until it was torn down in the summer of 1876. He says, "It is a fine picture, and looks just as I remember it. The retaining wall back of the house, and the well, are as I remember them, and no changes would be necessary to make the old house any more perfect than you now have it."

Prof. George H. Barton, and other old residents of Sudbury, also agree that the painting is a correct representation of the old "Haynes Garrison House."

Mr. McCann recalls that when the house was being torn down, they discovered that the rooms on the second floor towards the hill, were bricked about four feet high, between the outer and inner walls. It was said, this was to keep the Indians from shooting those in the rooms while they were asleep. This suggests the reason why it was called the "Garrison House," and there may have been other protective features in its construction, of which we know nothing.

This picture is reproduced here.

The Garrison House was torn down in 1876. Those interested in the history of the Town, and of the Walter Haynes Family, did not know there was a chance of such a calamity, or they would have taken steps to have it carefully preserved. The late David Francis Haynes, about 1882, hunted up the site, and found a man who had assisted in the wrecking of the house. He told him that the massive oak beams, and all the wood work, were still in perfect condition. Mr. Haynes found a door of the house, being used to cover an old well. So he bought the door, and had it taken to his house in Baltimore, where it is now (1928) owned, by his son, Frank R. Haynes. A picture of the old door is shown, opposite page 16.

LIEUT. JOSIAH HAYNES—1623.

(7) Josiah² Haynes came with his father, Walter Haynes, and the rest of the family, to the Massachusetts Bay Colony, in 1638, in the ship "Confidence." He was born in England in 1623. The name of Josiah Haynes does not appear in the list of original grantees of the town of Sudbury in 1638 or 39, while those of his father and brother John are contained therein. As he was but 15 years of age, this accounts for it. In 1654 he married Elizabeth (Noyes) Freeman, the daughter of Peter Noyes and the widow of John Freeman. They had eight children. The following facts were copied from the Town Records of Sudbury.

9 July 1645 John Haynes and Josiah Haynes took the Oath of Fidelity. For the text of the Oath of Fidelity see chapter on Deacon John² Haynes.

In 1657 an additional grant of two square miles was added to the town of Sudbury, and Josiah and John, with their father, Walter Haynes, are among the fifty inhabitants to receive a share.

1664 (month not given) "Serg't Josiah Haynes is appointed in the room of his father to give liberty to those that have right to timber to cut. Walter Haynes was appointed to this office in 1646." From Dr. Stearn's Journal. (See chapter on Walter Haynes.)

About 1664 he was associated with his brother John in acquiring land near "Quansigamogg pond," now Lake Quinsigamond, near Worcester, Mass. For particulars see chapter on Deacon John Haynes.

In 1666 the town chose seven new Selectmen, among whom were "Deacon" John Haynes and "Sergeant" Josiah Haynes. "One or both were on the Board of Selectmen till 1686."

13 Jan. 1667 "Ordered that Dea. John Haynes and Sargent Josiah Haynes do in the town's behalf make answer to any plea that may be made about a highway through the new Grants" etc.

1671, "Ordered that Sargent Josiah Haynes do goe with James Adams of Concord to stake the meddow belonging to this towne, in and about Cedar Swamp."

1672, "Sarg't Josiah Haynes is appointed to join with Thomas Sevens (Stevens?) to take the invoyse of men's estates rateable for the year ensuing."

1672, "Ordered that the Long Causeway from the bridge to the Gravel Pits shall be raised and well repaired, which said work is to be done by lot. Sargent Josiah Haynes and Mr. Peter Noyes to let out the said causeway."

In 1674 "The work of fence viewing on the west side of the river was assigned to Serjeant Haynes, Thomas Reed and Edward Wright. These were appointed surveyors of all the field fences on the west side of the great river of the town" and they had power to enforce their orders for in 1641 "It was ordered that those men who were deputed to look after the fences shall have power to distrain for every rod of fence not lawful, half a bushel of corn, the one-half to him that looks to the fence, the other half to the town."

21 Oct. 1674, "It is ordered that a new bridge be built over the great river (the Sudbury River,) as speedily as may be—that Sarg't Hains shall get the timber for one of the short pieces for said bridge, a foot square, well hewed, and to bring the same and lay it in place—two of the posts are to be nine foot long, each, and the other two are to be six foot long, each, and the cap is to be fourteen feet long, and he is to receive eighteen shillings for the same."

9 July 1675, "It is ordered that Sarjant Josiah Haynes of Sudbury shall be left to Captain Edmund Goodenough." (This was copied from Records in State House, Boston, Mass.) "Left" must mean Lieutenant, as we find after this date Josiah is spoken of as "Lieutenant" Josiah Haynes.

1 Dec. 1675, "Sudbury Return—To y^{ee} hon^r Governo^r and Council of y^e Massachusetts Colony—Wee yo^r hum^{ble} servants (y^{ee} Militia of Sudbury) having received a warrant from y^{ee} hon^{res} Major Willard, for the impressing of nine able men," etc., etc. "As also a warrant from yee worpfull Capt. Gookin bearing date 27 Nov. 1675, requiring us to return y^e names of such souldiers imprest by virtue of above said warrant," etc., etc. "Pray that their men might be released considering their condition as a frontier town."

22 Nov. 1675. Six men are reported to Govenor and Council as men impressed into the country's service to meet the town's quota. Signed, John Grout, Josiah Haynes, Edmund Goodenow.

Now comes the Attack on Sudbury by the Indians, in King Philip's War. Lieut. Josiah² Haynes must have found his soldierly characteristics standing his family and townsmen in good stead. (See chapter on King Philip's War.)

We have no record of when Josiah located on the west side of the Sudbury River, but as both Deacon John and Josiah put in claims for remuneration for damages on account of losses from Indian attack, it seems probable that he was living at that time, in the house that Walter built, next to the Garrison House, to the south. This house was bequeathed to him by his father, and Josiah probably occupied it soon after his father's death. In the list of claims for losses, we find "Deacon John Haines £180" and "Serg. Josiah Haines £190." This seems to indicate that although Serg. Josiah was probably defending the Garrison House with others, at the time of the attack, his property, as well as that of his brother John, was damaged by the Indians.

Jan. 18, 1679. At a meeting of the townspeople, "It is ordered that the selectmen shall visit the families of the town, and speedily inspect the same, but especially to examine children and servants about their improvement in reading and the catechism. Captain Goodnow and Lieutenant Haines to inspect all families at Lanham and Nobscot, and all others about there and in their way—and these are to return an account of that matter at the next meeting of the selectmen, appointed to be on the 30th of this instant Jan.”

Jan. 30, 1679. “The selectmen at this meeting gave an account of their several examinations in families according to the order, on the 1 & 16 of said month, who having gone over the town from house to house and inspected and made inquiry: do find that all children and young persons are in a forward and growing way as to reading and catechising, and as to work and employment they find them generally diligent, and in a hopeful thriving way in all respects.” (Dr. Stearns Notes.)

11 July 1684. The town purchased of the Indians another tract of land. The Committee appointed to ratify the contract in behalf of the Town and named in the Indian deed—are—Cap’t Edmond Goodenow, Leif’t Josiah Haynes, etc.

In 1690, a Petition was sent to Boston referring, the “Annals” say, probably, “to the ill-fated expedition under Sir Wm. Phipps.”

“To the honorable Governor, Deputy Governor,” etc.

“The humble petition of us who are some of us for ourselves, others for our children and servants whose names are after subscribed, humbly sheweth that being impressed the last winter several of us into dreadful service, where by reason of cold and hunger and in tedious marches many score of miles in snow and water, and laying on the snow by night, having no provision but what they could carry upon their backs, beside hard arms and ammunition, it cost many of them their lives. - - - Your humble petitioners request is that this honored court would grant this favor that our messengers may have liberty to speak in the court to open our cause so as to give the court satisfaction. Your humble petitioners humble request is farther that you would please to mind our present circumstances, and to grant us some favors as seem to be just and rational, that we may have some compensation answerable to our burden, or at least to be freed from farther charges by rates, until the rest of our brethren have borne their share with us,” etc., etc.

Signed by twenty names among them,
John Haynes, Sen., Josiah Haynes, Sen.

It is easy to see in these notes the son following in the footsteps of a worthy father. As we found Walter Haynes, God-fearing, brave, public-spirited, industrious, provident, and thoughtful of the welfare of his children, we may easily trace these characteristics in his sons. We find that Josiah Haynes besides being a good fighter was not without interest in books. We have seen how he was appointed to go with Captain Goodenow “to examine the children and servants as to their progress in reading and the catechism.” His will directs his “books” to be equally divided among his four children except that he gives to his son Joshua “his great Bible and Mr. Perkin’s works.”

Strange to say we do not know the exact date of the death of Lieut. Josiah² Haynes. His will, a summary of which follows, is dated 31 Jan 1698 showing he lived to a good old age.

Summary of the Will of Lieut. Josiah² Haynes, Sen., from the original which is filed at the Middlesex Probate Office, East Cambridge, Mass. This will was drawn Jan. 31, 1698.

After the customary preliminaries he proceeds to dispose of his property as follows: he specifies that he had formerly done well for his son, Josiah, "both in Land and in other things at Sudbury and at Boston, But as an addition to what I have formerly Done for him I will and bequeath unto him my son Josiah, a fourth part of my ffarme at Quansigamog." He gives Joshua his dwelling house, barns, orchards, pastures, and several pieces of meadow. To his "daughter Deborah Browne widow Relict of Jabesh Browne of Stowe dec^e * * a quarter of my ffarme at Quansigamog." To his daughter Abigail Browne, wife of Hopestill Browne, some pieces of land and also "a quarter of my ffarme at Quansigamog." The will further states: "I give my arms to be divided between my two sons, Josiah and Joshua, but my will is yt my son Joshua should have my long gun, and give it to him for his own." His wearing apparel he gives to his sons Josiah and Joshua, and to Joshua "a yoake of Oxen two Cows and six Sheep." "I give to my daughter Deborah Browne my feather bed yt I used to lay upon, and bedding to it." "I give to my son Joshua, my great Bible and Mr. Perkins works. And as concerning ye rest of my books my will is that they be equally divided between my four children." His son Joshua was appointed sole executor. Signed, Josiah Haynes (Seal)

THE ATTACK ON SUDBURY BY THE INDIANS AND THE DEFENSE OF THE TOWN AT THE HAYNES GARRISON, APRIL 18 TO 21, 1676

When the Indian war whoop echoed through New England desperate was its plight. John Fiske in "The Beginnings of New England," says: "The destruction of life and property were simply frightful." The lands at Sudbury had been bought from the Indians. "They were conveyed by a process as just as any lands are conveyed today . . . The Indian Cato wanted "wompomege" more than he wanted land. (see Indian deed, p. 18.) No process of ejection was ever served on an Indian by the early settlers of Sudbury and no collision ever occurred here between the two until about 1675 or '76. The War was with Metacomet, or Philip, who belonged to the Wampanoag tribe, not with Cato, and Philip never owned an acre of Sudbury territory. He invaded the land of Cato, who was a Mystic or Nipnet Indian." (From address by A. S. Hudson, at 250th Anniversary of founding of Sudbury, Sept. 4, 1889.) Want of space forbids our giving details of the cause of hostilities between King Philip, and the settlers of the Mass. Bay Colony, and of Plymouth. As stated later, Philip's attack on Sudbury seems to have been in revenge for the townsmen's going to the relief of Marlborough. The first man from Sudbury killed by the Indians, was Sydrach, or Shedrack, Habgood. He with seven others, of the regiment of Capt. Thomas Wheeler of Concord, were killed near the present limits of New Braintree, 2 Aug. 1673. The wife of Sydrach Habgood was Elizabeth Treadway. She was a niece of Dea. John² and Lieut. Josiah² Haynes, and a grand-daughter of Walter¹ Haynes, her mother being Suffrance² (Haynes) Treadway, and her father Nathaniel Treadway.

10th Mar. 1676, the Indians attacked "Lancaster, burning and plundering houses, and killed or captured forty-two persons. Soon after, they did great mischief around Marlborough, Sudbury and Chelmsford" (Stearns). March 26, the Indians attacked Marlborough. The town was laid in ashes, and the survivors withdrew to Sudbury and adjacent towns. On the night of the 27th, about forty men, mostly of Sudbury, commanded by Lieut. Jacobs of Marlborough, stole upon a body of Indians, as they lay sleeping around their camp-fire. At a given signal they fired upon the savages, killing about thirty and wounding others, and then retreated to the Parmenter Garrison in Sudbury without the loss of a single man.

By the 8th of April 1676, the town sent the following Petition:

"To the Gov. & Council; The humble petition of ye inhabitants of Sudbury sheweth; That by reason of the approach of the enemy near our towne, made apparent by a late firing near us, and constant smoakes every day about us, fearing least the enemy might suddenly surprise us, as it hath been their custom in other places, humbly crave for the prevention thereof, that it would please this humble council with what convenient speed maybe, to affoord unto us, twenty able and sufficient men upon the country's account, to be under the conduct of Lieut. Ephraim Curtis, to be as a Scout to range ye woods about our town, and to be in readiness upon any occasion, if the enemy should set upon us. And we shall adde unto ye said Scout out of our towne, so many men more, although we can hardly spare them, and secure our garrisons. And the poor petitioners shall forever hold themselves obliged to the honorable council." Signed by 13 inhabitants, among them, Josiah Hains, John Hains, Sen., Peter Noyes, etc. "This petition was granted, and in the course of a few days 20 men voluteered for this service. But owing to some unaccountable delay, they were not in readiness until after the fatal battle of the 18th. Cap't Curtis was in Boston, and his men, if in Sudbury, were in the garrisons." (Dr. Stearns' Notes).

Apr. 17, 1676, Thomas Plympton started early from the Haynes Garrison, with an ox-team to remove the effects of a Mr. Boon to safety. This Thomas Plympton was husband of Abigail Noyes, and she was sister of Dorothy, wife of Dea. John,² and Elizabeth, wife of Lieut Josiah², and of the late husband of Mary² (Haynes) Noyes. Peter Plympton, b. Feb. 1666, son of above Thomas, and then ten years old was one of those in the Garrison. In after years he told of these happenings, to his son Thomas Plympton (b. 1723) and to his grandson Eben Plympton. The last named related the accounts of the attack on Sudbury to Dr. Stearns, who wrote them out in "Notes" referred to. As "Thomas Plympton, and Boon and his son, were returning to the Garrison, they were fired upon by the Indians. Boon and his son were killed on the spot. Their bodies were found some days after, stript nearly naked, and scalped. Mr. Plympton was found in the bushes some distance from them, neither stript nor scalped. He was probably somewhat in advance of the others, and on the first alarm, loosed the oxen from the cart, received a mortal wound in his flight, but was not found by the Indians. The oxen returned the same day (the 17th) about noon." Whether they went to the Garrison or Plympton's home Dr. Stearns does not say, probably the former.

We now come to the attack on the Haynes Garrison House. (See plate facing p. 30.) Strange to say no allusion is made on the Town Records to the events of the War. The following Petition to the General Court describes in part the attack on the Garrison.

"To ye Honble ye Govenor Magistrates and Deputies of ye Genl Court essembled at Boston ye 11th Octobr 1676.

The humble Petition'rs of yor poore, distressed Inhabitants of Sudbury Humbly Showeth: That whereas yor impoverished Petition'rs of Sudbury have received intelligence of a large contribution sent out of Ireland by some pious and well affected persons for ye reliefe of their brethren in New England by ye Indian Enemy and that upon their divers distressed towns have presented a list of their losses sustained by fireing and plundering their estates. Let it not seem presumption in yor poore Petitionrs to p'sent a list of what Damages are sustained by yor enemies in his attempts:—hoping that or both will be considered among Our Brethren of ye tribe of Joseph," etc. etc.

Further on the Petition says the Indians "resolved by Our ruine to revenge ye reliefe which Our Sudbury Volunteers afforded to distressed Marlborough in slaying many of ye Enemy and repelling ye rest." "The Enemy well knowing Our grounds, passes, avenues and situations had near surrounded Our Town in ye morning early." (Annals say 'probably April 21st, 1676, though some authorities think it 18 April') (F.H.) (Wee not knowing of it) till discovered by fireing several deserted houses; the Enemy with greate force and fury assaulted Deacon Haines's house, well fortified yet badly situated as advantageous to ye Enemy's approach and dangerous to ye Repellant yet (by ye help of God) ye Garrison not onely defended ye place fro betweene five or six of ye clock in ye morning till about One in ye Afternoon, but forced ye Enemy with considerable slaughter to draw off. Many Observables worthy of Record hapened in this assault, vist: that noe man or woman seemed to be possessed with feare; Our Garrisonmen kept not within their Garrisons, but issued forth to fight ye Enemy in their skulking approaches: We had but two of our Townsmen slaine, and yt by indiscretion none wounded; The Enemy was by few beaten out of houses which they had entered and were plundering. And by a few hands were forced to a running fight which way they could; ye spoyle taken by them on ye East side of ye river was in greate pte recovered."

The Petition then begs that on account of their losses, and in consideration of their service to the "Country in their brave repulse of the enemy, they be granted an abatement of their taxes. Then the Petition is signed by 34 townsmen, fifth and sixth on the list being John Haines, Josiah Haines.

Then follows an Account of Losses,

"Deacon John Haines	£180 : s 00 : d 00
Seg. Josiah Haines	£190 : s 00 : d 00

(From Annals of Sudbury, Wayland and Maynard.)

The house is spoken of above as badly situated, probably because the low hill in its rear gave shelter to the Indians from the fire of the Garrison. See picture of Garrison, opposite page 30.

Morris and Ellis in their "King Philip's War" speak of the Garrison as "the Deacon Haynes House." Sylvester in "Indian Wars of New England" speaks of it as "Haynes's Garrison." Walter¹ Haynes had not been a Deacon in the Sudbury church, but after 1666, the Town Records always speak of his son John,² as "Deacon John Haynes." See chapter on the Haynes Garrison House.

"Dr. Stearns' Notes, continue: "On the 21st twelve men coming from Concord for the relief of the Garrison, approached unperceived by the Indians, 'till within a few rods of it, and might have reached it in safety. But they were decoyed into the meadow, by a number of squaws, furnished with wood guns, sent out for that purpose, and all but one fell an easy prey to the enemy." Dr. Stearns adds: "This is confirmed by Gookin, see Old Indian Chronicle note to p. 80."

From 'Indian Wars of New England, by Herbert M. Sylvester, Vol. II.

"Captain Wadsworth, who lived in Milton, had just come into Marlborough with a company, when a runner came in with the news of the attack upon Sudbury. He made an immediate march to that place, taking along with him, Capt. Brockelbank of Rowley." (Their united forces being 60 or 70 men—Stearns). They reached the vicinity of Sudbury, in the afternoon, to fall into an ambush; and only a few who were able to gain the shelter of an adjoining mill escaped." "The rest were literally cut to pieces. Wadsworth, covered with wounds, was among the last that fell, endeavoring to keep his men together and encouraging them to resist to the last.”—Sylvester.

“That same morning, runners had been sent into Boston. They got into Charlestown as the afternoon lecture was beginning, at which Maj. Gookin and Mr. Danforth were in attendance. These two left the meeting-house, and took a body of horse, which formed a part of Cap’t Prentice’s troop, commanded by Cap’t Phipps, and a company of friendly savages, under Cap’t Hunting, sending it off on the march for Sudbury. In the morning Cap’t Hunting’s Indians crossed the river into the woods to reconnoitre, but the only signs of the enemy they discovered were the slain bodies of Wadsworth, Brocklebank, Lieut. Sharp, and their men.” Sylvester.

Stearns states that fifty-one men were killed and twenty-four houses in Sudbury burned.

Dr. Stearns gives further details as follows: “The day of the battle with Wadsworth, the Indians invested the Garrison near the river called Haynes garrison. They tried various expedients to destroy it. At first they attempted to set it on fire with arrows of pitch pine, lighted at the end, but in doing this, although they more than once set fire to the thatch, they were obliged to approach so near as to be annoyed by the arms of the besieged. They then loaded a cart with unbroken flax, which they took from a barn nearby, and trundled it down the hill towards the Garrison. But the cart went but a little way before it was upset by a stump, and with its contents consumed.” Dr. Stearns omitted to say that the Indians set fire to the flax after loading the cart. As before stated Dr. Stearns was told this by ’Squire Eben Plympton, whose grandfather Peter Plympton had told it to him.

Gookin’s Old Indian Chronicle states that King Philip commanded in person, in the attack on Sudbury, and Sylvester and others say he had 1500 Indians on the war path.

“The few men of Brocklebank’s company who had escaped to a mill, under cover of darkness, were happily rescued by Cap’t Prentice of Cambridge, who came in great haste, tho’ too late to rescue Cap’t Wadsworth.”—Stearns.

April 22d, The Governor’s Council directed Major Savage of Suffolk and Major Gookin of Middlesex, “to raise 40 troops each, or as many as they can presently get together, well accoutred, and completely armed . . . and forthwith to march to, and visit Sudbury . . . and if they find the motion of the enemy to be either towards Concord or Meadfield to visit those towns also, and give the Council speedy information as to what they find, as to the towns condition and the enemy’s motions.”—Stearns.

Sudbury does not seem to have suffered further, but the savages continued their depredations in other localities, even after King Philip was killed at Mount Hope, Aug. 12, 1676. It has been stated that this repulse at Sudbury foiled King Philip in his plan to attack the outskirts of Boston. Mrs. Rowlandson, who had been taken captive at Lancaster, and who wrote a most interesting "Narrative" of her experiences, relates: "They (the Indians who were her captors) came home (after the attack on Sudbury) without rejoicing and triumphing over their victory, as at other times, but rather like dogs which have lost their ears."

A monument was erected on the spot where Wadsworth and Brocklebank with their men were buried. Rev. Benj. Wadsworth, a son of Cap't Wadsworth, is said to have written the inscription on the monument, and he states the date of their death as 18 April 1676. He was pastor of a church in Boston, and later President of Harvard College, so it seems as though that date must be correct. But Sylvester, and Ellis and Morris in their "King Philip's War," say the 21st of April. Doubtless the town was threatened by Philip and his men from the 18th to the 21st.

A list of members of the Haynes Family who were probably in the Garrison during the Indian attack, twenty in all:

Dea. John ² Haynes b. 1621	Daniel ³ b. 1663
His wife Dorothy (Noyes) H.	Ruth ³ b. 1668
Lieut. Josiah ² Haynes b. 1623	David ³ b. 1671

Thomas ³ b. 1658
James ³ b. 1660-1

Both Dea. John² and Lieut Josiah² had daughters who had married men of nearby towns and so probably those women were not in the Garrison at this time.

The histories quoted are: John Fiske's "Beginnings of New England;" "Indian Wars of New England," by Herbert M. Sylvester; and "King Philip's War," by George W. Ellis and John E. Morris. "Annals of Sudbury, Wayland and Maynard," by Alfred Sereno Hudson. All are verified by Hubbard's "Indian Wars in New England," published May 1775, and by Drake's "History of Boston," and "Book of the Indians."

The Dr. Stearns so often quoted, was a physician in Sudbury for many years. He wrote very full notes of the history of the town from the time of its founding, 1639 to 1835, evidently copied partly from Town Records, and partly from old deeds, and from the reminiscences of townspeople.

THE HAYNES BLUE BOOK.

"An Account as near as I can collect of our Fathers coming from Old to New England." So begins the Chronicle, written by John⁴ Haynes (No. 28), a great-grandson of Walter.¹ He then tells of the coming of his grandfather John² Haynes the year before the rest of the family, as quoted in the record of Dea. John² (No. 6). "The next year 1638 came over our great-grandfather Walter Haynes and Peter Noyes." Then follows the record in full of Peter Noyes' children, grandchildren and great grandchildren. "And nextly as to our Great Grandfather Walter Haynes, with others, their removal from Watertown, the place they first came to in the year 1638, as above and, so from thence the same year or the next year, having obtained a grant from the General Court of land for a township now called Sudbury, removed and settled there." John⁴ now goes on to give the Haynes family for four generations, the latest date being the death of Phineas,⁴ which he gives as June 1772, but which probably was 1771. See Phineas⁴ Haynes (No. 43). John⁴ gives the date of his own birth, 14 Aug. 1684, but no one added, later, the date of his death, and it is not recorded on the Sudbury Records. From the letter given below we see that his later years were spent away from Sudbury, which accounts for that omission. His son John⁵ (No. 65) had moved to Nova Scotia, and John⁴ may have joined him there.

The Walter Haynes Family are all indebted to William Francis⁸ Haynes, a lineal descendant of John,⁴ and his son Frederic Marshall⁹ Haynes (No. 1035), the present owner, for the care with which they have preserved this valuable document. It came into the possession of William F.⁸ Haynes, (b. 1810) who wrote: "When my grandfather Samuel⁶ Haynes of Sudbury, died, in the year 1825, there was found among his papers an old manuscript written by Walter's great grandson, John.⁴" Since the death of William F.⁸ Haynes, this record has been owned by his son Frederic Marshall⁹ H., of Milton, who has placed it in the keeping of the New England Historic Genealogical Society of Boston (1927). The names and dates have been carefully compared with those of the Sudbury Town Records, by the editor, and found correct, the slight variations, such as the one regarding the death of Phineas,⁴ being unimportant. It seems most probable that John⁴ spent a good many years compiling his Chronicle, and as we find him in the following letter in feeble health in 1769, and away from Sudbury, that accounts for the error in that date.

The following letter was found among Sudbury documents, secured by David Francis⁸ Haynes (No. 668), about fifty years ago. The letter was addressed on the back, as was the custom before envelopes were used, "for L't Elisha Wheeler In Sudbury." There is no postmark to show where it was mailed, nor did the writer give the place.

Elisha Wheeler married Mary Loring (daughter of Minister Loring) born Sept. 14—1716—died Jan. 22—1801

John Haynes

OUR ANCESTOR PETER NOYES.

We give a few facts regarding Peter Noyes, because as three of his children married children of Walter Haynes he is of much interest to us.

He came in the "Confidence" with Walter Haynes and other settlers of Sudbury; with him were two of his children: Thomas, 15 years old, and Elizabeth. The ship's passenger list reads, "Peter Noyce of South" (Southampton) yeoman, 47." Then, following the names of the two children, are given: "Robert Davis 30, John Rutter 22, Margaret Davis, 26, his servants." Though he is entered on the passenger list as yeoman, he is repeatedly mentioned in the records of his service in the community, as "gentleman," and the term "Mr." is often used, that being in those days a term of great respect. After a short stay in New England, he returned to the old country, coming back in 1639, in the ship "Jonathan." With him were his children, Nicholas, Dorothy, Abigail, and Peter; also John Waterman, Richard Barnes, and William Street, servants." Peter Noyes was very active in Sudbury development. It will be seen in the record of Walter Haynes' services that his name is often mentioned in the same enterprise. Other detail will be found in the History of Sudbury. He was made a freeman, 13 May 1640, was a Selectman for 18 years, and represented the town at the General Court in 1640-41 and 50. In 1654 he gave his estate in England to his son Thomas Noyes. He died 23 Sept. 1657. The day before his death he made a Will, making his son Thomas his executor. He makes bequests to his other children: Peter,² Joseph,² Elizabeth,² wife of Josiah² Haynes (No. 7); Dorothy,² wife of Dea. John² Haynes (No. 6); Abigail,² wife of Thomas Plympton; his daughter-in-law Mary (Haynes) Noyes (No. 5), wife of his son Thomas; and his kinsman Shadrach Hapgood.

The family of Peter¹ Noyes, Sr., died out in the male line in 1697, when his grandson Peter³ Noyes died of the small pox in London, while on a visit to England. Thomas² Noyes, oldest son of Peter¹ Noyes, Sr., had married Mary² Haynes, but they had no children. Joseph² Noyes, third son of Peter¹ Sr., had died in the Barbadoes about 1661. Will recorded 2 Apr. 1661. The Noyeses who later married Hayneses were descended from Joseph Noyes of Newbury, Mass. The Noyes Genealogy states that they have been unable to trace the English ancestry of the Noyes family in Newbury, or to find any connection between that family and Peter Noyes of Sudbury, our ancestor, though they think undoubtedly there was some connection. The Joseph Noyes, who appears in Sudbury in 1662, is of the Newbury line. He was b. in Newbury 15 Oct. 1637. He first appears on Sudbury Town Records 16 Feb. 1662, when he was chosen one of the Selectmen of Sudbury, which office he held over 28 years. He was appointed constable 1667, and 1668; a justice of the peace 1679, and to many other offices. He was a man of considerable property, owning a number of slaves. He married Mary Darnill or Darnell, of Sudbury, 12 Nov. 1662, and it was their daughter Sarah Noyes, born 1669, who married James³ Haynes, 21 Dec. 1689. (See No. 15 James³) (Middlesex Co. Rec.) Their son Joseph Noyes, born 1663, married Ruth³ Haynes, eleventh child of Dea. John² Haynes. Daniel Noyes who in 1721 married Sarah⁴ Haynes, was also of this line.

SUMMARY OF THE WILL OF CAPT. JOSHUA³ HAYNES OF SUDBURY

This Will was made 18 Sept. 1749. First he provides liberally for his wife, Anna (Estabrook) Haynes. Their three children had all died in infancy. So he then makes the following bequests:

Item. "I give to the use of the poor of the town of Sudbury, & to such as the ministers and selectmen of the town of Sudbury shall from time to time judge to be objects of charity, one thousand pounds in value equiel to one thousand pounds now of the old tender bills of credit in the province of the Massachusetts bay, to be paid by my hereafter named executors: within three years after my decease to the minister & selectmen of the town of Sudbury, and from time to time to be by them let out on interest the principal never to be deminished, the yearly interest to be by the said ministers and selectmen and their successors, disposed of to the youse of the poor of said town, and to such others of said town as they shall judge stands in need of Charity."

Item: "I give to the use of Reading and Righting schools to be kept in the town of Sudbury, one thousand pounds in value equiel to one thousand pounds now of the old tender bills of credit on the aforesaid province to be paid into the hands of the ministers & selectment of the town of Sudbury by my hereafter named executors," etc. with the same provisions as to interest and "principal never to be deminished" as the previous item.

The testator then leaves money to the pastor, and to numerous relatives whom he calls his "loving cousins," using the term "cousin" to designate nephews and nieces, after the usage of that time. Altogether, he devises £2,560 in moneys, besides valuable lands given to the various "cousins." He appoints as executors, Dea. Jonathan Rice, Dea. Josiah Haynes and Mr. Samuel Parris. Was signed in presence of Ephraim, Joseph and Samuel Curtis. The will was probated, 18 Apr. 1757. See No. 27.

A FEW ITEMS FROM THE HISTORY OF SUDBURY

From Hudson's History of Sudbury, published 1889, we find the following items concerning some of the later activities of members of the Haynes Family:

May 25/ 1713. A Committee of eight was appointed "to lay out Two Convenient Training Fields, one on each side ye River." "Capt. Hayns & Leiut Hayns" were of this committee.

April 5-1715. The town voted to have Ens. John Noyes fence in the old burying place. Signed "Peter Hayns Moderator." In 1716 the proprietors voted that "ther shall be a Burying place Layd out on the west side of The River" and of the committee of five to attend to the matter were Capt. Hayns, Mr. Peter Hayns, and Lt. Hayns.

Jan. 15 1706-7. The people of the West Side petitioned Gov. Dudley and the General Assembly to have the town divided into two precincts, in each of which there should be a church. Those living on the West side "By Reason of the flud of watere, which for a very great part of the years doth very much incommode us * * we are forced for to seek our spiritual good with the peril of our Lives." Among those who signed this petition were John Haines, Joseph Haynes, John Haynes Jr. and David Haynes.

The town voted May 19 1740 "That Capt. John Haynes & Mr. John Woodward Be a committee fully impowered in the town's behalf To go to the Great & General Court" to protest against having a portion of the town taken to be joined with parts of other towns in forming a new town. The Committee was successful in preventing this.

A Facsimile of a letter by Captain Aaron⁵ Haynes is shown facing p. 27. A picture of the sword he carried in the Revolutionary War is shown facing p. 16. This sword is now in the possession of (746) Dr. George⁸ A. Haynes of Homer, Michigan, a direct descendant of Capt. Aaron.

202 Aaron,⁶ Haynes, Jr., was just 16 when the Rev. War broke out. Enlisted as a Drummer in his father's Company. Later was made a Serg't, just when, not known, is recorded as Serg't in 1777. Is on Sudbury lists as being in "The 8 months Service, Col. Jonathan Brewer's Reg't," "The Year's Service, 1776, Col. Whitman's Reg't." Also "For 3 years, or during the War, 1777." Is on list of those of Sudbury entitled to Pension for Service. Apr. 9, 1783, he asked to be excused as Administrator of the estate of his father, Capt. Aaron⁵

Haynes, because in the "Service of the U. S." About the year 1865 the children of Aaron⁶ Haynes, Jr., obtained a considerable sum of money from the U. S. Pension Bureau, a sum due their mother, the widow of above, for his services during the Revolution. Last fact given by Dr. George A.⁸ Haynes of Homer, Mich., a grandson of Aaron,⁶ Jr.

123 Asa⁵ Haynes had moved from Groton, Conn., to Dutchess Co., N. Y., before the French and Indian War, (see Chap. on same). Served in Revolution, probably enlisting from Patterson, Putnam Co.; 22 June 1778, was appointed 2d Lieut. (Vice Hatfield removed), Capt. David Heacock's Co., Col. John Field's Reg't, 3 Dutchess Co. Reg't. (Blake's Hist. of Putnam Co.).

122 Caleb⁵ Haynes had served in French & Indian War, (see same.) Not known when he first enlisted in Rev. War. Was appointed 1st Lieut. (Vice Hunt removed) 22 June 1778, Cap't Pierce's Co., Col. John Field's 3 Dutchess Co. Reg't. Infor. given by B. A. Sill of N. Y. City, a descendant.

101 Charles⁵ Haynes, whom we have seen had been engaged by town of Billerica for service in the French & Indian War, was also engaged by same town to serve in the Revolution, as follows: Private in Capt. Solomon Pollard's company of Minute Men, Col. Green's Reg't, which marched on the alarm of April 19, 1775. Service 7 days. Also Private Lieutenant Colonels Co., Col. Thomas Nixon's Reg't.

Continental Army pay accounts for Service, from Jan. 1, 1780, to May 26, 1780: "Residence, Billerica; engaged for town of Billerica; also, Lieut. Cole's (7th) Co., Col. Nixon's (6th) Reg't; accounts of clothing delivered, endorsed 'Feb. 7th, 1780'; also Lieut. Col. Daniel Whiting's Co., Col. Nixon's Reg't, pay roll for Jan.-June 1780. Reported discharged May 26, 1780." (The above from page 31. The following from page 34 of Mass. Soldiers & Sailors of Rev. War.

"Petition dated Camp at Hull, Sept. 17, 1776, signed by him and others belonging to Battalion stationed at Hull, asking for increase and payment of wages. Also Private in Capt. Abishai Brown's Co., Col. Josiah Whiting's reg't., enlisted May 16, 1776, service to Dec. 1, 1776, 6 mos. 18 das.; rolls dated Camp at Hull." He is entered on the Pay Roll of Sudbury, June 1778, as entitled to £73 pay from Sudbury for services. He is the only Charles Haynes recorded as born in Sudbury up to 1802. He had moved to Natick by 1771. Was Constable & Collector there.

84 Daniel⁵ Haynes (of Brimfield) was at Battle of Lexington 19 Apr. 1775, in Co. of Capt. James Sherman, Reg't Col. Pynchon. Also Capt. Joshua Shanis' Co., Col. Elijah Porter's Hampshire County Reg't. Served 3 mos. in 1781, Co. of Capt. Davis Reg't of Col. Drury. (Hist. Brimfield).

151 Daniel⁶ Haynes is probably the Daniel Haynes who enlisted from Sudbury in 1777, for "two months Service to New York, Col. Thacher's Reg't." (Sudbury Records). It is recorded of this Daniel that "he was taken prisoner at Saratoga in 1777, and never afterwards heard from." But possibly he escaped, and may have lived with the Indians for a time, for in 1782 this Daniel (151) married Elizabeth Ferret, said to have been an Indian. No other Daniel appears on Sudbury or Natick Rec. who could answer for this Rev. Service.

140 David⁶ Haynes was apprenticed to a Silversmith of Norwich, Conn., when the Revolution broke out. Volunteered for 3 months, and was stationed with a Reg't at Rye, L. I., to guard military stores. This was related by his gr'son, Judge Jacob March⁸ Haynes. When enlistment expired went to Palmer, Mass., and we have no record of further service.

128 Capt. Ephraim⁶ Haynes. His grandson, Andrew H.⁸ Haynes of South West Harbor, Me., stated that he served the last 3 years of the Revolution. Was paid in Continental money, some of which the gr'son remembered. Early in the War he was pressed as a pilot on a small British Cruiser. While lying at a port in New Brunswick, when officers and men were below, he and a boy seized all the guns on deck, closed down the hatches, and sailed for an American port. They entered the latter with American colors flying, and the hatchway open a crack, so that those below could see them. Related by his gr'son above, and his gr. grandson, Stearns A.⁹ Haynes.

109 Israel⁵ Haynes was with Capt. Aaron⁵ Haynes's Co. from Sudbury, at the Old North Bridge in Concord, and at Lexington, and joined in the pursuit of the British as they retreated towards Boston, the 19th of April 1775. Received £113, 18s. for Services (see Sud. Pay Roll) in the War, but we have no record of his special service. One of his descendants states he was made a Cap't, but inscription on his gravestone in Sudbury Cemetery does not give him any title.

James Haynes. It is difficult to identify the Service of the two James Hayneses who fought in the Revolution. One is recorded in "Soldiers and Sailors of the Revolutionary War" as James, Jr., so he is evidently James⁶ 190 and the other must be his father, James⁵ 106. The Sudbury Pay Roll reported 1778, and before referred to, reads: "In the 2 months Winter Service," entitled to £129, 14s. pay. Later a James Haynes is "on list of those entitled to Pension." We think this is probably James⁶ 190.

"Massachusetts Soldiers and Sailors of the Revolutionary War" gives the following:

106 "James Haynes, Sudbury, Private, Capt. Aaron Haynes's Co., which marched on the alarm of Apr. 19, 1775 to Cambridge, via Concord; service 4 das." We think this James is James⁵ 106. Also from same Records: "James Haynes, Private, Capt. Jona. Rice's Co., Col. Samuel Bullard's Reg't; enlisted Aug. 17, 1777; discharged Nov. 29, 1777; service 3 mos. 24 das., including 11 das., 220 miles travel home; company ordered to march to reinforce Northern army. Roll dated Sudbury." We think this last is also James⁵ Haynes No. 106.

From same source as above:

190 "James Haynes, (also given James, Jr.), Receipt given to Benjamin Hayward, Paymaster 4th Reg't., dated Camp Mount Washington, Sept. 30, 1776, signed by said Haynes and others, for money due, prior to Jan. 1, 1776; also, Private, Capt. Adam Wheeler's (2d) Co.; Col. Thomas Nixon's (4th) reg't; regimental return dated North Castle, Nov. 9, 1776; also, same co. & reg't.; company receipts for wages from Sept.-Dec. 1776; also muster roll of Capt. Asahel Wheeler's co., which marched from Sudbury and joined Col. Joseph Read's Reg't at Roxbury, endorsed 1777." As before stated it seems to us most probable that this James,⁶ Jr., No. 190 from his longer service, is one given on Sudbury records as "entitled to a pension."

117 Jason⁵ Haynes was at Fight at Old North Bridge at Concord, said to have fired from behind a wall at a Serg't of the enemy's guard, and captured his gun. Was in 5 months Service, Expedition against Canada, Col. Read's Reg't, Gen'l Brackett's Brigade, Gen'l Gates' Division. Is entered on the Sudbury Pay Roll: rec'd £70 for Service.

98 Jonas⁵ Haynes was living in Brimfield, Mass., at time of war. Hist. of Br. records that he was at the Battle of Lexington, Capt. James Sherman's Co., Col. Pyncheon's Reg't., 19 Apr. 1775. Br. Town Rec. state that he served in Rev. but we have no further record.

214 Jonas⁶ Haynes is entered on the Sudbury Pay Roll: "In the 8 Months Service, Col. Jonathan Brewer's Reg't." "In the Year's Service, 1776, Col. Whitman's Reg't." "For 3 years, or during the War, 1777." In last entry he is called Serg't Jonas. Is called Cap't Jonas in entry of birth of dau. Becky, 1788, and of son James 1790, on Sud. Vit. Rec. On Sudbury list of those entitled to Pension. Was pensioned under Act of Mar. 1818, but dropped on account of "excess of property." Later was pensioned under Act of June 7, 1832. Pension was dated 7 June 1833, when he was 81 years old.

102 Jonathan⁵ Haynes is on Pay Roll of Sudbury as receiving £45 for Service. No further record.

Joseph Haynes. Two of this name are recorded in "Massachusetts Soldiers and Sailors of the Revolutionary War:"

182 Joseph⁶ Haynes, son of James,⁵ above, b. Sudbury, 1742 had moved to Princeton, Mass., in 1764. But we think he is the Joseph Haynes recorded in "Mass. Sol. & Sail.," as fols.:

"Haynes, Joseph, Sudbury, Private, Capt. Aaron Haynes's Co., which marched on the alarm of Apr. 19, 1775 to Cambridge, via Concord; service 4 das." He is given among the list of Sudbury men, serving in the Rev., in History of Sudbury, by Rev. Alfred S. Hudson. As his father and brothers served in Cap't Aaron Haynes's Co., and he probably had belonged to it while living in Sudbury, it is quite natural he should have gone with it on the 19th of Apr. Doubtless by 1776 he found enough at home to keep him busy, as he is mentioned in Princeton Records as one of a Committee to keep Mr. Fuller, a Royalist, out of the pulpit, in 1776.

141 Joseph⁶ Haynes b. Brimfield 1762 is evidently the Joseph Haynes recorded in "Mass. Sol. & Sailors of Rev." as fols.: "Haynes, Joseph, Private Capt. John Sherman's co., Col. Gideon Burt's reg't. enlisted 16 June, 1782; service 4 das. mileage to and from Springfield, (50 miles) allowed co., marched to Springfield and Northampton, in defense of Government." Brimfield and Springfield are both in Hampden Co., so this indentifies this Joseph H.

Joshua Haynes. There were three Joshua Hayneses of Sudbury who served in the Rev. War, and it is difficult to distinguish the service of each, as neither the "Mass. Sol. & Sail. of Rev. War, the entries Sudbury Town Rec., nor Family Rec. sent in, make it very clear which was which, but the fol. seems the most probable solution of the identity of each of the three:

116 Lieut. Joshua⁵ Haynes was in Capt. Aaron⁵ Haynes's Co. at Concord and Lexington 19th Apr. 1775, (see "Sol. & Sail. of Rev."), is spoken of then on Sud. Rec. as "Ensign." In "Sol. & Sail. of Rev." is entered as "Serg't. Service 4 das. Was commissioned as "Lieut." (First) 5 July 1776, Capt. Asahel Wheeler's (7th) Co., 4 Middlesex Co. Reg't, Mass. Militia ("Sol. & Sail. of Rev.") Was in the 8 Months Service. Was in the 5 Months Service to Ticonderoga, then spoken of as "Lieut. Joshua." Entered on Sudbury Pay Roll referred to, as receiving £78 for Service. We know that this Joshua⁵ is the one made Lieut. because he is spoken of on Sud. Rec. as "Lieut. Joshua, father of Joshua, Jr."

231 Joshua⁶ Haynes, Jr. Private in Capt. Aaron⁵ Haynes's Co. Fol. from "Sol. & Sail. of Rev.": "Enlisted May 3, 1775; service 46 days; reported a minor; also company return dated Prospect Hill 6 Oct. 1775, reported killed 17 June 1775; also, certificate dated Camp at Roxbury Mar. 14, 1776, signed by Capt. Aaron Haynes, stating that Joshua Haynes, son of Joshua Haynes of Sudbury, was a soldier in his company, and was killed in battle (Battle of Bunker Hill), 17 June, 1775, and had not received a bounty coat; also, account showing sums of money to be paid from the public treasury, to sundry persons for losses sustained at the Battles of Lexington and Bunker Hill; amounts allowed in Council, 13 June 1776." (Sums not given in above ac't.) His name is inscribed on the Bronze Tablets placed in Winthrop Square, Charlestown, June 17, 1889, in memory of the soldiers killed at Bunker Hill 17 June 1775.

195 Joshua⁶ Haynes, "Private, Capt. John Nixon's Co. of Minutemen, Col. Abijah Pierce's Reg't, which marched on the alarm of 19 Apr. 1775; service 4 das." "Sol. & Sail. of Rev." We have two records copied from Sud. Town Rec., that this Joshua⁶ of Capt. John Nixon's Co., was wounded at Concord. No further record either of military service or of what befell him.

33 Dea. Josiah⁴ Haynes. From Bancroft's Hist. of U. S., Chap. 60-61. "Dea. Josiah Haynes of Sudbury, Mass, aged 80 years, was of Capt. Aaron Haynes' Company, at Concord Bridge, 19 Apr. 1775, and followed the British on the route to Boston, and was killed by a musket ball on the 19th of Apr. at Lexington."

GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY OF UTAH

From Oration by Geo. W. Curtis, L. L. D., of New York, delivered on the one-hundredth anniversary of the Battle of Concord, 19 Apr. 1875. (N. E. Hist. & Gen. Reg., Vol. 29, p. 390.) "Dea. Josiah Haynes of Sudbury, eighty years old, marched with his company to the South Bridge at Concord, Mass., and then joined in the hot pursuit to Lexington, and fell as gloriously as Warren at Bunker Hill."

From Harper's Monthly Mag., May 1875. "While the enemy were at Col. Barrets, and just before their retreat, two companies, one of militia and one of minute-men from Sudbury arrived within sight of the house. These were under the command of Captains Aaron Haynes and John Nixon: Jonathan Rice was a lieutenant in one of the companies. They were accompanied by Lieut.-Col. Ezekiel How. * * * With one of these companies was Dea. Josiah Haynes, 80 years of age. He was urgent to attack the British at the South Bridge, dislodge them, and march into the village by that route. Such was the spirit that prevailed among the people at that time. This aged patriot pursued the enemy with ardor as far as Lexington, and was killed there by a musket ball."

Inscription on his gravestone, Sudbury Cem. "In memory of Deacon Josiah Haynes, who died in Freedom's Cause ye 19th of April A. D. 1775, in ye 79th year of his age.

Come listen all, unto this call,
Which God doth make to-day.
For you must die as well as I.
And pass from hence away."

115 Moses⁵ Haynes is on the Sudbury Pay Roll of 1778 as entitled to £32 pay, it would seem, for "5 months at Ticonderoga."

131 Nahum⁶ Haynes was 27 years old at breaking out of Rev., was Fifer for Co. of Capt. Aaron⁵ Haynes. Probably was with the Co. on the 19th of April. Is on the "Index of Persons, in the 8 months Service, Boston, Mass." Was wounded at Ticonderoga in 1776. Mass. Sol. & Sailors of Rev." gives but one Nahum H. in the Service. Gives fol. about him: "reported sick in quarters Jan. 1782—also Feb. 1782, York Hutts reported deceased."

103 Peter⁵ Haynes is entered on Sudbury Pay Roll of 1778 as entitled to "£50 for 5 months Service at Ticonderoga."

212 Reuben⁶ Haynes was at Concord on 19th of Apr. 1775, in Capt. John Nixon's Co. and joined in the pursuit of the British. Was in the "Two months Winter Service, 1776, in Capt. John Nixon's Co." Enlisted 1777, "for Three Years, or during the War," enrolled then as Serg't Reuben. On Sudbury list of those entitled to a pension. Was wounded several times, carried a bullet in his leg, to his grave. His nephew, Abial⁷ Haynes of Strongsville, O., stated that Reuben was made a Cap't, but we do not find record of this.

145 Samuel⁶ Haynes of Brimfield. Hist. of Brimfield, p. 345 states he served in the War, but does not give special service.

127 Samuel⁶ had gone to Annapolis, N. S., with parents about 1761. Returned to Sudbury. Is on Sudbury Pay Roll of 1778 as Minute Man, entitled to £3, 10s. Apr. 19, 1775 is recorded as in Nathaniel Cudworth's Co., Col. Abijah Pierce's Reg't.

DESCENDANTS OF WALTER¹ HAYNES IN THE WAR OF 1812

The figures before each name refer to the number of each in the Genealogical Records.

257 Charles⁶ Haynes, son of Asa⁵ Haynes of Patterson, N. Y. Was living in Ohio, and probably volunteered from there. Was killed in the Battle of Lundy's Lane in Canada.

413 Capt. David⁷ Haynes, is said to have been Cap't of a military company of Bowdoin, Me. or near there. His grandson, Silas N. Haynes of Auburn, Me., so stated, and that he was in the Mada-waska War.

137 Ezra⁶ Haynes was living probably on L. I. at time of War. Stationed at Harlem Heights as Orderly Sergeant for 6 months. Year not given. Foregoing given by his son Ezra⁷ who states his father rec'd 280 acres of land for Service, in 1854.

150 Jonathan⁶ Haynes. It is said that when drafted he was out of town. On his return when notified that he was to serve he shouldered his musket, marched all the way to Boston, and joined his company. (Incident sent in by Town Clerk who copied Brimfield Rec. for Mr. D. F. H.)

139 John⁶ Haynes had gone to Ohio in 1802 with parents. His son, Moses H.⁷ Haynes, recorded that he served in War of 1812 under Gen'l Wm. H. Harrison.

DESCENDANTS OF WALTER¹ HAYNES WHO SERVED IN THE CIVIL WAR

Figures before each name refer to number of each in Genealogical Records.

Because Walter Haynes' descendants had scattered so far, and some cannot be traced by 1860, our list of those who defended the Union is by no means complete. The editor regrets that lack of time made impossible the search of printed records of Civil War Soldiers which would undoubtedly have given more names. The service of the following has been given to us:

852 Andrew Thomas⁸ Haynes. "Served in the Civil War." No further data sent in.

919 Charles R.⁸ Haynes. At breaking out of War, he enlisted from Billerica, Mass., his birthplace, as a private in 33'd Mass. Vol. Inf. Was wounded at Battle of Lookout Mountain, 26 Nov. 1863. Was sent to hospital. After recovery served in Provost Marshall's office in Boston, until term of enlistment expired.

715 Daniel⁸ Haynes of Framingham served in this War. No further record sent in.

668 David Francis⁸ Haynes was living in Baltimore, Md., when the War broke out. Was drafted several times in its course, but having broken an ankle some years previous, which because it was badly set, was still troublesome at times, he was not accepted. The Abbot Iron Co. of Baltimore was awarded the contract for the iron plates for the "Monitor." They made D. F. Haynes, the Sup't of the job, which had to be done in record time, thus assuring him he was loyally serving the Cause.

844 Delos Reuben⁸ Haynes was living in St. Louis, Mo., at time of War. Served as Adjutant, G. A. R., Ransom Post No. 131.

937 Rev. Edwin Mortimer⁸ Haynes, D. D., served as Chaplain of the 10th Vermont Reg't for 4 years. Was pastor of a Baptist (?) Church in Wallingford, Vt., at the time War broke out. Enlisted from W. After the War was chosen historian of his Reg't, and wrote a "History of the 10th Vermont Reg't." Was an active member of the G. A. R. and the Loyal Legion.

1034 Francis William⁹ Haynes was Sergeant, Co. D, 43d Reg't Mass. Vols. Company composed largely of young men from Dedham, Mass. At Newberne, N. C., most of the nine months term of service. When returning to be mustered out, after time had expired, the battle of Gettysburg was fought, and the entire company volunteered to go to the front. They were sent to Harper's Ferry, and later resumed their journey back to Boston.

1214 Garrison⁹ Haynes served for 3 years in Co. B, 26th Reg't Ill. Vol. Was wounded on his 24th birthday, 3 Aug. 1864. Lost his right leg at Atlanta, Ga.

942 George⁸ Haynes. The only data sent in is that "he died in the Civil War."

1012 Howard⁸ Haynes is said to have served in this War, but no details given.

1013 I. M.⁸ Haynes, full name or particulars of service not given, but said to have served in this War.

1162a James⁹ Haynes, son of Ayers⁸ H. of Bowdoin, Me. Ayers' nephew, Silas N.⁹ H., of Auburn, Me., wrote that this cousin, James,⁹ died in the War, but gave no detail.

978 John⁸ Haynes served in Co. A, 207 Reg't Pa. Vols., Capt. Elmer Backer. Enlisted 29 Aug. 1864. Discharged 31 May 1865.

928 John C.⁸ Haynes enlisted 1864, in Co. G, 36th Mass Vols. Was sent to Camp Nelson, Ky., and detailed as a nurse in the hospital there. Was taken ill, and died 18 Mar. 1864, only ten weeks after leaving home.

1085 John Park⁹ Haynes. Volunteered, and served in Co. F, 51st Reg't, M. V. M. Joined Oct. 14, 1862. Was made Sergeant.

307 Dr. Moses Harriman⁷ Haynes enlisted 1861, in 69th Ohio V. I., Col. L. D. Campbell. Was made Assistant Surgeon. Received a Captain's commission. Resigned because of illness caused by excessive overwork, Oct. 1862, at Nashville, Tenn. At Cumberland, Md., from Jan. to Apr. 1862, he had the care of 100 or more sick men, with few supplies and but little help. At Camp Chase, he had, while ill, care of an entire regiment, the surgeon for same, Dr. Slusser, being at the battle of Shiloh. Later he joined the Ohio N. G., 167th Regiment, as private, but when the reg't was ordered into service in spring of 1864, was made its major surgeon. Served from May to Sept. 1864.

938 Nathan Wheeler⁸ Haynes. "Was killed in Civil War" the only record sent in of his service.

1052 Stearns A.⁹ Haynes. Enlisted in 15th Vermont Reg't, Sept. 1862. Was a Corporal, then Sergeant in Co. E, Infantry. Had typhoid fever. Discharged Aug. 1863.

973 Sylvester⁸ Haynes died in the Civil War. This information was given by the late Mrs. Eliza M.⁸ Haynes of Bridgeport, Conn.

821 Thomas Herrick⁸ Haynes, d. of a gunshot wound in the Civil War. Was buried in the National Cemetery at Arlington, Va.

1215 William Andrew⁹ Haynes, a brother of Garrison⁹ H., above served 3 years in the same Reg't, Co. B, 26th Reg't, Illinois Vols. He was more fortunate than his brother as he escaped serious injury.

⁹ Name not given. Son of Sam'l P.⁸ and Caroline (E.) Haynes. This Mrs. Caroline (E.) Haynes wrote in 1882, that they had one son who died in battle at Petersburg, Va. Was buried at City Point, Va. She did not give his name.

SOME OF WALTER¹ HAYNES' DESCENDANTS WHO SERVED IN THE WORLD WAR

Figures before each name refer to number of each in Genealogical Records.

We know that there are many of Walter Haynes' descendants who fought "to make the world safe for democracy," whose record we are not able to obtain, the family having so widely scattered that many have been lost sight of. We have given the record of two whose last name was not Haynes, but who are of the clan, as their mothers were Hayneses.

1142 Albert Edmond⁹ Haynes served as instructor in the U. S. Navy, enlisted at San Pedro, Cal., 26 June 1918. Served at the training station there as instructor, until the end of the War. Discharged, or placed on the inactive list 1 Jan. 1919.

WALTER HAYNES AND HIS DESCENDANTS

FIRST GENERATION

For the facts we have been able to find regarding 1 Walter¹ Haynes and his wife Elizabeth, see pages 10 and 13-24.

For the marriage record of John Hayne and Alice Lambert, undoubtedly the parents of Walter Haynes, see page 7.

SECOND GENERATION

1. WALTER¹ HAYNES, m. Elizabeth ———.

Children:

2. ELIZABETH,² b. in England; m. Roger Gourd. She is mentioned in will of Alice Hayne dated 2 Mar. 1620-1 as "my sonn Walter Haynes daughter Elizabeth." She probably married before April 1638, as she did not come in the "Confidence" with rest of the family. Walter Haynes, by his will dated 4 Mar. 1663-4 gave to her his house in Shafton (now Shaftesbury about 9 miles S.W. from Sutton Mandeville) in Dorset. The order of birth of these first four children is uncertain. They were all four mentioned in the will of their grandmother Alice Hayne made 1620-1. The last two children, John and Josiah, were born after that date.
3. THOMAS,² b. in England; d. in Sudbury, 28 July 1640.
4. SUFFRANCE,² b. in England; m. Nathaniel Tredway of Watertown, Mass. John Haynes in his Blue Book (see p. 40), written about 1772, says: Suffrance Haynes "was wife of one Josiah Tredway of Watertown. No name of a Josiah Tredway on Sudbury, Watertown or Framingham V. R. until the marriage of Josiah Tredway, son of Nathaniel and "Sufferanna," 1674. History of Framingham by Barry, 1847, says "Sufferanna w. of Nathaniel Tredway was d. of Elder Edward How." But probably a mistake, for no mention on records of Framingham, Watertown, Sudbury or any of surrounding towns of any Sufferanna How, or any other Nathaniel or Josiah Tredway than those already mentioned above. Walter Haynes in his will 1664 leaves property to his d. "Suffrans" Tredway. Nathaniel Tredway was granted land at Lake Quinsigamond in the year 1664, with John and Josiah Haynes, brothers of Suffrance Haynes. "Sufferannce w. of Nathaniel Tredway d. 22 July

- 1682." (Watertown B. D. M.) Nathaniel Tredway d. 20 July 1689. (Watertown B. D. M.)
- Their children (Tredway): (1) Jonathan,³ b. 11 Nov. 1640, in Sudbury. (2) Mary,³ b. 1 Aug. 1642 in Sudbury. (Sud. V. R.) (3) James³ (Hist. Framingham). (4) Elizabeth,³ b. 3 Feb. 1646. (Watertown B. D. M.); m. Shedrack Habgood. (5) Josiah,³ m. Sarah Sweetman 9 Jan. 1674. (Watertown B. D. M.) His b. not on Sud. or W. Rec. (6) Lydia,³ m. Josiah Jones 2 Aug. 1667. (7) Deborah,³ b. Watertown 2 June 1657; m. Joseph Goddard, 25 Mar. 1680. (8) A dau.³ who m. a Hayward.
5. MARY,² b. in England; m. Thomas Noyes of Sudbury, eldest son of Mr. Peter Noyes. He was Ensign 1664 and Lieutenant 1665-6. To him Peter Noyes in 1654, gave his estate in Old England. 11. DOROTHY,³ b. 1651-2; m. 6 May 1680, Joseph Freeman of Sudbury, b. 29 Jan. (or Mar.), 1645, son of Elizabeth (Noyes) Freeman and John Freeman. -

Undoubtedly this James was one of the defenders of the Haynes Garrison House. (See account of fight there, p. 34.) He was a farmer; was a deacon of the Sudbury church from 1706 to 1715. Mentioned as James Haynes, Sr., in Sudbury West Side Church List, 1724-5. Sarah Noyes was b. 28 Sept. 1669, dau. of Joseph and Mary (Darnell) Noyes of Newbury and Sudbury (see Chapter on Peter Noyes), and thus she was not a descendant of Peter Noyes. By her will, dated 1756, Samuel Noyes was appointed guardian for her heirs, viz.: James Haynes (her grandson); Rhyja (Ahijah), her son, then in poor health (see Ahijah, p. 65.) Abigail Noyes, probably a child of her dau. Sarah, who m. Daniel Noyes. Will appoints Jacob Puffer guardian for "Johan" Puffer and Dorothy Puffer, the latter the wife of Samuel Puffer, and "Johan," her son John. (See Dorothy,⁴ p. 66.)
16. DANIEL,³ b. 16 May 1663. The Family Record, written by John⁴ Haynes, says that Daniel³ was "pressed and sent a Soldier to the Eastward, a single man. In the year 1687 returned back as far as Boston and died there."

This David Haynes is spoken of as "Captain." Mentioned on Sudbury West Side Church List, 18 Mar. 1724-5. He was executor of will of his father, John² Haynes. This will left to David,³ among other things, "his book of survey and his surveying instruments." He is probably the David Haynes mentioned as Surveyor in Worcester, in early Worcester Records from 1714 to 1737. "About 1718 David³ Haynes was one of grantees in third settlement at Worcester. He sold his land there 5 Mar. 1721-2 to Obadiah Ward of Sudbury." From Reminiscences of Worcester, Caleb A. Wall. Is also the David Haynes, Gen't., of Sudbury, summoned before the General Court, for traveling on Sunday, 1734. From "Colonial Laws of Mass., Oct. 1668: "As an Addition to the Law for preventing prophaning the Sabbath day by doing servile work; this Court doth Order that whatsoever Person in this Jurisdiction, shall travel upon the Lord's day, either upon horse-back, or on foot, or by boats, from, or out of their own Town, to any unlawful assembly or meeting not allowed by Law, are hereby declared to be prophaners of the Sabbath, and shall be provided against as the persons that prophane the Lord's day by doing servile work." Oct. 1746 Capt. David Haynes was excused from paying taxes for his "pool" or "poll." Probably the latter. He died of cancer nine years later. (Dr. Stearns' Notes.) The inscription on his grave at Sudbury Center is as follows: "In Memory of Cap. David Haynes Who died Oct." ye 19th A. D. 1755, in ye 85th year of his Age." On his wife's grave: "In Memory of Mrs. Tabitha Haynes, ye wife of Cap't David Haynes. She died April ye 18th 1755 in ye 82^d Year of her Age."

Micah Lambert, dau. of Michael, had deeded to her "father-in-law (step-father)" Josiah Haynes, all rights in "her honored Father, Michael Lambert's lands" for a consideration. Signs once as a minor, with her mother. Signs later as wife of Peter Williams. Later as wid. of same. Date of death of Josiah³ Haynes not known. Will made 1719. Died before 23 Nov. 1721, as at that date husband of his dau. Anna,⁴ Nathaniel Brown, transfers her share of her father's estate to her mother, 26 Apr. 1723, Obadiah Phillips, husband of Josiah's dau. Elizabeth,⁴ transfers to her mother, her share of father's estate. 17 May 1744 Josiah³'s estate in New Groton, of 250 acres, was sold by his son Caleb⁴ Haynes. The 12 Sept. 1697, Elizabeth Haynes, wife of Josiah,³ with her dau. Micah Lambert, and her daughters, Elizabeth⁴ and Anna⁴ Haynes, was baptized at Old Road Church, Stonington, Conn.

21. THOMAS,³ b. Sudbury, 30 Nov. 1656; d. young. One record says, d. 29 June 1656, evidently a mistake.

(6) Sarah.⁴ Probably m. a Stone of Holliston and is mentioned in will of her uncle, Joshua Haynes, as "Cousin Sarah Stone of Holliston." (7) Josiah,⁴ b. Sudbury, 12 Nov. 1693. Is probably one mentioned in will of his uncle Joshua³ as "Cousin Josiah Brown of Sudbury." Or this Josiah Brown may have been Josiah, son of Deborah³ and Jabez Brown. (8) Abigail.⁴

23. DEBORAH,³ b. Sudbury, 13 Dec. 1659; m. 1st Jabez Brown of Sudbury; m. 2d John Brigham.

25. SARAH,³ b. Sudbury, 28 Sept. 1663. No further record. She probably had died before 1698 as her father does not mention her in his will of that date.

26. CALEB,³ b. Sudbury, 19 May 1667, d. 1687. Probably not married. The Haynes Blue Book compiled by his cousin's son, John⁴ Haynes, says he "was pressed, and so sent a soldier to the Eastward (probably to East Indies), a single man, and thus died in the year 1687." Undoubtedly must have been at the Haynes Garrison House when it was attacked by the Indians during King Philip's War, 21 Apr. 1675.

From Concord records of B. D. and M.: "Mr. Joshua Haines of Sudbury and Mrs. Anne Estabrook of Concord were joined in marraige by ye Rever'nd Mr. Joseph Estabrook, Jan. ye 26th 1709-10." The use of the title "Mr." occurs but rarely on the records, hence shows high esteem. They had three children, all of whom died in infancy. His will is given on page 42. He and his wife were buried in cemetery in Wayland, then E. Sudbury. Inscription on his gravestone is as follows: "Here lies buried the Body of ye Worthy Joshua Haynes, Esq., Deceased March ye 29, 1757, In the 88 year of His Age. 104. THOMAS,⁵ b. 2 Jan. 1749-50; m. in Sudbury 3 Jan. 1775, Mary or Molly Eames, probably of Lincoln, as marriage found on Lincoln Records. Her birth not on Lincoln Records. No record found of their death. His grandson Daniel thinks they moved to Vt. "Vermont Rolls of Soldiers in Rev. War," has name of "Thomas Haynes" which may be this Thomas, but we cannot verify it. As birth of his son Daniel⁶ is recorded on Sudbury Record, 26 Oct. 1778, it would seem hardly likely that Thomas⁵ went to Vt., until after the war.

A Keziah Hanes is entered on Sudbury Rec. who m. William Hammond, 14 Feb. 1764 in Natick. No further record on Sudbury or Natick Records; as this Keziah might have been dau. of Daniel and Lydia, and born between Jonathan,⁵ No. 102, b. 1738, and Peter,⁵ b. 1743, this entry is made here. The fact that Charles⁵ No. 101 moved to Natick makes this surmise seem probable.

Children by second wife:

106. JAMES,⁵ b. 25 May 1721; m. 13 Aug. 1741, Eleanor Lee of Concord, in Concord, "by Rev. Mr. Daniel Bliss" (Concord V. R.). She d. 25 Apr. 1759. He m. 2d Abigail Noyes, 24 Jan. 1760. in Sudbury. He served in War of the Revolution. For services see page 48.
107. JOSHUA,⁵ b. 7 or 17 Oct. 1723; m. 4 Jan. 1750, in Harvard, Rebecca Mead of Harvard, dau. of Samuel and Dinah Mead, b. Dec. 1730. He d. 12 Feb. 1755. Administration of will granted to Rebecca, his wife, 24 Mar. 1755. In 1761, Aaron Haynes was appointed guardian, and Mar. 9, 1765, Elisha Wheeler was appointed guardian for Joshua⁶ (eldest son) at his own request. Partition made of the estate 27 Nov. 1771, Joshua,⁶ the son, having become of age. (Cambridge Wills.) Date of death of Rebecca not known.

47. ABIJAH⁴ HAYNES (15 James,³ Dea. John,² Walter¹), m. Elizabeth Smith.

Children, all b. in Sudbury:

108. CAPT. AARON,⁵ b. 25 Dec. 1727; m. 30 Oct. 1750, Rebecca Willis, b. 25 Nov. 1733, dau. of Samuel and Jerusha Willis. She d. 17 Dec. 1767; buried in Sudbury Cemetery. He m. 2d Ruth Woods. She said to be of Marlboro or Southboro, but no record of her on records of either town or of Sudbury. Aaron⁵ was selectman of Sudbury 1768-1773. He had a brilliant record in the Revolutionary War. See chap. on same, pages 44, 45-47. Exact date of death not known; was about 23 Jan. 1783. 25 Jan. 1783 his funeral was attended by Rev. J. Bigelow. Apr. 9, 1783, Matthias Mossman was appointed administrator of his estate; the widow, Ruth Haynes, and his oldest son Aaron,⁶ declining to act; the latter "because in the service of the U. S." (in Rev. War.) He was the only one of sons old enough to be administrator. Matthias Mossman was husband of Sarah⁶ Haynes, Capt. Aaron⁵'s eldest child. Capt. Aaron⁵ had died intestate. 1784 the estate was entered for probate, at the Court in E. Cambridge, one account says the estate was insolvent, one account says that in 1780, Capt. Aaron,⁵ the father, was appointed as guardian for Aaron,⁶ Jr., not quite 21 years of age; "Nahum,⁶ above 14 years of age, (was 17) and Mary,⁶ under 14 years of age (13)" children by his first wife. Mar. 12, 1788, Isaac Puffer was appointed guardian for David Woods,⁶ Obed,⁶ Rebecca,⁶ and Josiah,⁶ the children of Capt. Aaron⁵ by his second wife, Ruth Woods. It would not be from want of thrift if it were true that Capt. Aaron's estate was insolvent at his death, for he had been in the Expedition against Canada in 1775, and had played a brave part in the Revolutionary War, his son Aaron,⁶ Jr., also serving, as well as the sons-in-law, and his own brothers. There was a large family of young children to be cared for while the father fought for his country.

109. ISRAEL,⁵ b. 11 Dec. 1728; m. 10 Jan. 1754, Sarah Darby of Stow, b. 1736. He served in the War of the Revolution, see chapter on same. He d. 24 Aug. 1808. She d. 22 Mar. 1821. Both were buried in Old Sudbury Cemetery. The inscription on their tombstone, which is to the memory of both, contains the following verse:

"Remember this you morning Friends
Your loss is my eternal gain.
With me all sin & sorrow ends—
Then cease to murmur & complain."

110. SARAH,⁵ b. 18 Feb. 1729-30; d. 20 Jan. 1730-31.
111. REBECCA,⁵ b. 14 Feb. 1731-32; m. 15 Dec. 1757 or 1759, Eleazar Laurence or Lawrence of Littleton. Her father, Ahijah Haynes left no will, but in settlement of his estate 5 Dec. 1787, she is mentioned as his daughter "Rebecca Howard," so she evidently had married a second time.
112. MARY,⁵ b. 20 May 1733; d. 8 May 1735.
113. MARY,⁵ b. 27 Jan. 1735-6; d. 14 Nov. 1740.
114. EUNICE,⁵ b. 10 Feb. 1737. In settlement of estate of her father, Ahijah⁴ Haynes, 5 Dec. 1787, she is spoken of as his daughter, Eunice "Haynes" (from Abstracts Cambridge Wills); d. 1 Feb. 1818 (Sudbury Ch. Rec.), "of Infirmary."
115. MOSES,⁵ b. 5 Feb. 1741-2; m. in Concord, 9 Mar. 1769, Dorcas Jones of Concord. He served in the War of the Revolution, see chapter on same. He spoke at religious meetings, and carried no funds on his travels, was probably a circuit preacher; so writes his grand-nephew, Abial⁷ Haynes of Strongsville, O., the grandson of Israel.⁵ No record of death of Moses⁵ or his wife.

57. JOSIAH⁴ HAYNES (20 Josiah,³ Lieut. Josiah,² Walter¹) m. Mary Avery.

Children, probably all b. New Groton, Conn., first two are entered on N. G. Rec.:

116. LIEUT. JOSHUA,⁵ b. 31 Dec. 1731; m. Susan or Susannah Puffer of Sudbury. She was dau. of Samuel and Dorothy Puffer, and was b. 26 Sept. 1733. He served in Revolutionary War. See chapter on same, page 50. He probably had gone to Sudbury to live, with his father and the rest of the family. Just when they went there is not known, but in 1757 his father had inherited a valuable farm in Sudbury. The fact that the sons married in Sudbury or towns near, and that they fought in Battle of Lexington, in Sudbury Co.'s, and also died there, proves they had lived there. He d. in Sudbury 29 Dec. 1814. She d. 15 Jan. 1818, in Sudbury, "of numb palsy." (Sud. V. R.)
117. JASON,⁵ b. —; m. 20 Jan. 1767, Lydia Conant of Stow (Stow V. R.) He served in French and Indian War, and Revolutionary War, see chapters on same. He is on the Province Tax List "Ruff Draft" of Sudbury, 1767. List reads as follows: "Poles 5 s. 10 d." This is average amt.; a few paid 11 s. 8 d., one man paid 17 s. 6 d. He d. Sudbury, 12 Aug. 1816. She d. Sudbury, 5 Mar. 1835.
118. HULDAH,⁵ b. —; m. 31 Dec. 1778, Pelatiah or Maltire Eaton of Athol. (Athol and Sudbury V. R.)
Children (Eaton), b. in Athol: (1) Ann,⁶ bap. 17 Sept. 1780. (Athol Rec. Church Rec.) (2) Huldah,⁶ bap. 11 July 1784. (Athol Rec. Ch. Rec.) (3) Avery.⁶ No further b. d. or m. of above on Sudbury or Athol Records.

59. CALEB⁴ HAYNES (20 Josiah,³ Lieut. Josiah,² Walter¹), m. Desire Culver.

Children, probably all b. in New Groton, now Groton, Ct., the order of their birth uncertain:

119. ELIZABETH,⁵ m. ——— Lamb. Lived in 1791 in Mapletown, Rensselaer Co., N. Y., as that is given as her residence in a deed giving her right in her father's estate to her brother Caleb,⁶ 19 May 1791.
120. DESIRE,⁵ no record except her name.
121. ABIGAIL,⁵ m. — Baker. 20 June 1770, she gave by deed to her brother Vine,⁵ her right in her father's estate. She was then a widow.
122. CALEB,⁵ b. 22 Oct. 1736; m. Sophia (Billings) Stoddard, b. Groton, Conn., 18 or 27 May 1736. She probably was Sophia Billings and was wid. of — Stoddard when she m. Caleb.⁵ He served in Revolutionary War and before that in French and Indian War (see chaps. on same). He received a deed from his brother Solomon⁵ for his share of their father's estate, 18 Nov. 1783. He rec'd deed from his sister, Elizabeth⁵ (Haynes) Lamb for her share of their father's estate 19 May 1791. 18 Dec. 1794 rec'd deed from his brother Asa⁵ for his share of their father's estate. 3 Jan. 1795 sold his farm in New Groton to Caleb and Stephen Haley, giving deed for it. Meantime he had moved to Pawling Precinct, Dutchess Co., N. Y. Just when he went there is not known, but he received his appointment as First Lieut, 22 June 1778, 3d Dutchess Co. Reg't. For his services in French and Indian War and Revolutionary War, see pages 43 and 47. He built a house in Pawling in 1784. This house was of stone, and on one of the stones, his sons cut the name and date, CALEB HANES, 6 June 1784. Using too much space for first letters of name they were obliged to omit the "y" in Haynes. He d. 26 July 1823. She d. 26 Sept. 1822.

123. ASA,⁵ b. — 1739; m. 1760 Deborah Hunt, dau. of William and — Hunt. Her mother was of the Society of Friends. He was living in Fredericktown or Franklin, now called Patterson, Putnam Co., N. Y., in 1794. Moved to Patterson at close of French and Indian War. 18 Dec. 1794, gave a deed to his brother Caleb,⁵ for his share of his father's estate, in New Groton, Conn. History of Dutchess Co., N. Y., gives genealogy of this Asa,⁵ but it is incorrect. Skips one generation. He served in French and Indian War; and in Revolutionary War was appointed 2d Lieut. in 3d Dutchess Co., Reg't, N. Y., as Patterson was then in Dutchess Co. For service see pages 43 and 47. Dates of death of above not known. A descendant of Asa,⁹ Benjamin Akin Sill, made careful search for further record of Asa⁵ and his wife, but all that has been discovered is here given. Their children are given in their respective places.
124. SOLOMON,⁵ the information regarding him is very meagre and is as follows: 18 Nov. 1783 he gave deed to his brother Caleb for his share in his father's estate. Was then living in Warrenstown, Montgomery Co., N. Y. Previous to that he had served in 1760 in French and Indian War, enlisting from Groton, Conn., French and Indian War, page 44. The following is from "First Census of the United States, Made in 1790, New York." "Montgomery Co., Mohawk Township. Name, Solomon Haynes." Schedule of Census: "Free White Males of 16 years and upward, including heads of families, 2. Free White Females including heads of families, 8. Free White Males under 16 years, 1. All other free persons, 0. Slaves, 0."
125. VINE,⁵ b. Groton, Conn., 1743; m. Polly or Molly Brown, b. 1744, dau. of Nathaniel Brown, who was a Baptist clergyman. 20 June 1770, received deeds from his sister's Widow, Abigail⁵ (Haynes) Baker, and Temperance⁵ (Haynes) Burrows, for their shares of their father's estate. Consideration paid to each £4. 7 Oct. 1778, Vine⁵ gives deed to Daniel Stark for the two shares purchased above, and his own share "in my honored mother's thirds," of his father's estate. Above from New Groton Land Records. In April 1779, he moved to Guilford, Vt. He was a carpenter and cabinet maker, and endured many hardships while clearing his land. He and his wife brought with them to their new home, six children, and three more were born in Guilford. He d. 28 Feb. 1808. She d. 8 May 1838, probably in Guilford. From First Census of U. S., taken in in the year 1790. Vermont, Guilford Township, Windham Co. "Schedule—Vene Hanes—Free White Males, of 16 years and upward, including heads of families—1. Free White Males, under 16 years—2. Free White Females including heads of of families—5.

157. JOSEPH,⁶ b. 12 Jan. 1772. This Joseph⁶ Haynes had a nephew, Joseph⁷ Haynes, No. 352, son of his brother Daniel,⁶ No. 151. It is difficult to distinguish these two Josephs. But the descendants of Joseph No. 352 think that he is the one who married Lydia or Judith Rice of Natick, though it is possible that one Joseph married a Judith Rice, and one a Lydia Rice. The Vital Rec. of Framingham give the children, as children of "Joseph and Judith," while the marriage records of same town give the marriage of "Joseph Haynes and Lydia Rice 31 July 1804," adding "both of Natick," and Natick V. R. give "Intentions" as "Joseph Haynes and Judith Rice, 30 July 1804." We have no names given as middle names at so early a period as the early 1800's. Much study both by descendants and the editor fail to unravel this problem, or to find any further record of this Joseph No. 157.

"His father moved with his family, while Alvin was yet a child, to Bangor and soon after to a new farm in the wilds of what is now Edinburgh near the banks of the Penobscot, being the second settler. He assisted his father who carried the mail between Bangor and Houlton, there being then but one mail a week through that almost unbroken wilderness. Alvin would carry the mail to Howland in a wagon, where he was met by his father, then taking a boat for Scow's Landing, about two miles above Mattawamkeag Point. Here was a camp, where the crew from Houlton met them and exchanged mails. That crew carried the mail seven miles through the woods to what was called Jims Kitticook Falls, now Kingman, where they went in a boat to the Forks, now Haynesville, then they travelled on horseback through the woods to Houlton. In this way Alvin Haynes became thoroughly acquainted with the then imperfect mail service, and when the Military Road was completed, he drove the first mail stage out of Bangor on that route.

He removed to Bangor about 1835, and became the agent for Col. James Thomas, the owner of the stage line between Houlton and Augusta, as well as other lines. He afterwards became a partner of Thomas, and through him was appointed United States Mail Agent for New England and the Middle States. During that time he was connected with the City Government of Bangor, being in the Board of Aldermen and in the Council. About this time Thomas & Haynes built a hotel at the Forks of the Mattawamkeag, and the place was named for the latter, Haynesville. He held the position of United States Deputy Marshal under Virgil D. Paris between 1845 and 1850. He afterwards removed from Bangor to Mattawamkeag, and during that time held the position of County Commissioner, and also represented his District, then covering a large extent of country, in the Legislature. The incorporation of many towns in Northern Penobscot is due to his untiring efforts. Afterwards he removed to Winn, where he passed the remainder of his days. While residing in Winn he filled numerous positions of responsibility. Understanding the trade of surveyor of lands, he was intimately connected with the development of towns in his vicinity, and many others, as well as Winn village, are located and arranged according to "Alvin Haynes' plan and survey." He had an early experience at the business, when 19 years old, being employed in 1820 by the English surveyors in connection with the Monument line. He also was associated with these same officials when they created so great a sensation, nearly twenty years afterwards, during the Aroostook war."

While still a lad, he went on the stage with Nathaniel P. Banks later Governor of Massachusetts, Speaker of the House, and a general in the Civil War, who became a life-long friend. Both deserted the stage after six years, for politics. Mr. Haynes was elected State Senator for the years 1857-58. Gov. Banks then appointed him Warden of the State Prison at Charlestown. When Mr. Haynes took charge of the Massachusetts State Prison it was in a state of chaos. He made it the model penal institution in the world. He was the first prison reformer of any note in the United States and his reputation soon became world wide. While abroad, he was consulted by prison authorities everywhere. In 1871, Mr. Haynes went to Rio de Janeiro and engaged in business, remaining there for two years. The last twenty years of his life were spent in and about Boston. He married twice. His first wife was Cliffodier Ann Hodges, of England, by whom he had seven children, and his second, Emma Jane Hopkins of Charlestown, by whom he had ten children. Mr. Haynes was a 32nd degree Mason. He was grand master of Henry Price Lodge, F. and A. M. for many years. While in South America, he was Brazilian correspondent for a Boston paper. In 1842 he went to North Reading and became clerk in a general store. After working in Methuen, Waltham, Saco, Me., and Boston, in 1849 he went to Springfield and took charge of a branch of a Boston store for men's clothing. In a few months he was able to buy the business for himself, with the help of $500 borrowed from his father. This amount he was able to pay back in three months. In 1855 he sold out his clothing business to his brother Theodore Lyman⁸ Haynes. For the next nine years Tilly⁸ Haynes was engaged in real estate development. In 1864 a disastrous fire destroyed the theatre and business block he had erected. But in twelve months he had built a new theatre and the Haynes Hotel. He made the latter a success but on the death of his wife in 1876, gave up its active management. In 1880 he was induced to take charge of the United States Hotel in Boston. Under his management this soon became a hotel of note. Some years later he bought the Broadway Central Hotel in New York, and brought it up to the highest standards. Meantime he had been chosen to the State Legislature by the Republican party. From 1867 to 1870 he was a Representative. From 1875-78 was a member of the State Senate. In 1878 and 1879 was a member of the Governor's Council. He served on important committees both in the House and Senate. He had an ideal of a beautiful Springfield, and aided to develop the same, leaving by his will $10,000 to build a boulevard for the city. Mr. Haynes married Martha E. Eaton, the daughter of Archelaus and Elizabeth (Haskell) Eaton of Salisbury, Mass., 16 July 1852. She died in Springfield, 16 Mar. 1876. They had no children. He died in Boston, 10 Aug. 1901.

(1) FREDERICK HAYNES¹⁰ NEWELL, b. Bradford, Pa., 5 Mar. 1862.

Engineer, civil, mining, hydraulic; former chief U. S. Reclamation Service; graduate Mass. Inst. Tech., in mining engineering, 1885; post-graduate studies in petroleum geology; assistant in Ohio Geological Survey in oil fields; mining investigations in Pennsylvania and Virginia; assistant hydraulic engineer, U. S. Geological Survey, 1888-90; hydrographer, 1890-1902; chief engineer U. S. Reclamation Service, 1902-07; first director, 1907-14; then consulting engineer.

Mr. Newell graduated in 1885 at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and after field experience in Colorado and other states was appointed on October 2, 1888, as Assistant Hydraulic Engineer of the U. S. Geological Survey. He advanced steadily in the work, expanding its scope and being successively designated as Hydrographer and as Chief of the Hydrographic Branch. At the same time he actively assisted Representative Francis G. Newlands (later Senator) of Nevada, George H. Maxwell of California, President of the National Irrigation

Association, and others in the preparation and public presentation of various congressional bills, one of which by the personal efforts of President Roosevelt became the Reclamation Act when signed by the latter on June 17, 1902. Immediately after that date Mr. Newell was appointed Chief Engineer under Charles D. Walcott, then Director of the U. S. Geological Survey.

During the next few years the organization of the Reclamation Service was completed and plans outlined for extensive work in each of the western arid states, work being initiated on most of these. In 1907 the Reclamation Service was organized as a separate bureau of the Department of the Interior with Mr. Newell as Director and Arthur P. Davis as Chief Engineer. Construction was rapidly pushed until twenty-six projects including reservoirs, canals and related works were completed in whole or part, notably the Roosevelt, Shoshone, Arrowrock, Gunnison Tunnel and others, involving the investment of over $100,000,000 in 100 dams, of which ten form reservoirs of national importance, also 25 miles of tunnels, 13,000 miles of irrigating canals and ditches with regulating works, bridges, steam and hydro-electric generators, transmission lines, pumps and devices connected with supplying water to 20,000 farms. Especial efforts were made to attain the highest practicable economy and efficiency in the execution of the work and to meet the need and desires of the settlers under them.

Ex-President Theodore Roosevelt wrote "For Fourteen years I have followed at first hand the work of Mr. Frederick H. Newell, I speak from my personal knowledge when I say that he was one of the most loyal, disinterested and efficient public servants the United States has had throughout that period. I first came in touch with him when I was Governor, when I drew on him for aid and advice in formulating the proper conservation policy for the State of New York. During the years that I was President he was one of my right-hand men. Mr. Newell is a public servant of whom it is the bald and literal truth to say, that by his services he has made all good American citizens his debtors."

In addition to his official duties, Mr. Newell has served as Secretary of the National Geographic Society and also of the American Forestry Association. He has been an active member of many scientific societies serving on committees of the American Society of Civil Engineers, the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, the Washington Society of Engineers (President in 1907), Washington Academy of Science (Vice President 1907), Western Society of Engineers, member of the U. S. Land Commissions, U. S. Inland Waterways Commission, National Advisory Boards for Fuels and Structural Materials, Illinois State Board of Examiners of Structural Engineers, Illinois Society of Engineers, Engineering Council (N. Y.), American Association of Engineers (President 1919), Reclamation Research Committee.

Member of Cosmos Club (Washington), and various Greek letter, altruistic, and scientific organizations.

Awarded the Collum gold medal by the American Geographical Society.

During boyhood he went to the district schools, then kept usually but six months of the year. At thirteen, he began to help his father, who had moved to Southbridge, Mass., where he had a shop for harness making and carriage trimming. Judge Haynes by reading and study and a few months in the High School, was at length able to teach. Later he went to Monson and Wesleyan Academies. By 1842-3, he studied law. In September, 1843 he set out for Indiana, then considered the far west. He journeyed by rail to Albany, then went by canal boat, steamboat, on horseback and afoot, at times, having only dim trails to follow. After short stays at towns on his route, December, 1844, piloted by a friend, he reached his future home, Portland, Indiana, on horseback.

Portland was then a hamlet of some twenty-five log houses, but here the young lawyer started to practice, often piecing out the small income obtainable in this field, by teaching. By 1856 he was elected judge of the common pleas court of Jay and Randolph counties. In 1860 Delaware and Blackford counties were added. In 1871 he was elected judge of the 26th judicial district. In 1877 he retired from the bench, but carried on a law practice for six years. He then gave most of his time to his real estate interests, but was often requested by the court to act as special judge, even when eighty years old. His death, 5 Feb. 1903, was widely mourned by a large circle of friends and his legal associates. Judge Haynes the 27 Aug. 1846 married Miss Hilinda Sophia Haines, daughter of William and Elizabeth (Morrow) Haines, of the New Jersey (Quaker) Haines Family. She died 11 May 1885. In 1887 he married Miss Sarah Watson who died 2 Mar. 1901. Judge Haynes was a member of the Presbyterian church. He was a Whig and later in life a Republican.

later in Barre, Mass., where the family moved, attending the district schools, during their short terms. At sixteen he went to Lowell, Mass., and entered the crockery and glassware store of Ephraim Brown. In 1855 Mr. Brown sent him to the British Isles and France, to introduce a burglar alarm attachment for money drawers, invented by Mr. Brown. Returning in a year, he went to Baltimore, Md., and entered the employ of Horace Abbot and Son, who conducted the then large manufactory of plate iron, and rails. Theirs were the only mills in the country where the plates for the Monitor could be made. So in 1861 the company erected a new mill to supply the Government demands, and Mr. Haynes was placed in charge. In 1868 the company made him general manager of their ore plant in Rockingham Co., Va., where he lived with his wife and children, until 1871.

Returning to Baltimore, he became a partner with John P. Ammidon in the wholesale crockery and glassware business, and when Mr. Ammidon retired in 1876, Mr. Haynes continued the business as D. F. Haynes & Co. In 1881 Mr. Haynes purchased the Chesapeake Pottery, then a small plant. He rapidly enlarged the business, developing the technical and artistic side of the industry, until his wares were known for their superiority, both in this country and abroad, and he was recognized as a pioneer in a movement which gave impetus to the whole industry in the United States. In 1895 his son, Frank R. Haynes, was made a partner in the business.

By 1903 his health began to fail, but he bore with wonderful patience and heroism, increasing loss of strength, until the end, which came Aug. 24 1908. Mr. Haynes was married three times. His first wife, Anstress Wilson Brown, the daughter of Ephraim and Sarah (King) Brown, died in Virginia, 20 Feb. 1870. His second wife was Sarah E. Davis, the daughter of Elisha and Fannie (Foster) Davis of Lowell, Mass. She died 2 Feb. 1893. Later Mr. Haynes married Martha E. Whittemore of Lowell, the daughter of Paul C. and Mary H. (Cavender) Whittemore, who survives him. Mr. Haynes was a Presbyterian, serving as an Elder for many years, and with his family was active in church and Sunday School work. For his interest in genealogy and his enthusiasm in collecting Haynesiana see the Preface.

In 1855 he bought his brother's share of the business, and with Messrs. Alley and Willey formed the firm of Alley, Haynes and Willey. Later he bought the interest of Alley and Willey. With his brother as silent partner he kept enlarging his enterprise, but in July 1864, fire destroyed the plant and part of the stock. By October 1865 business was resumed in better quarters than before. Theodore then bought out his brother's interest in the business, and later took his brother John⁸ Haynes into partnership. After moves to larger quarters the business was at length transferred to its present site. By 1901 the entire block was taken over and a new front built for the store. FREDERICK M. HAYNES
At 82 years of age—See No. 1035

1035. FREDERIC MARSHALL⁹ HAYNES (588 William Francis,⁸ Edward,⁷ Samuel,⁶ John,⁵ John,⁴ John,³ Dea. John,² Walter¹), was born in Boston, May 23, 1843. When he was twelve years of age, his parents moved to Dedham, where he lived until 1879, when he was married to Annie Louise Rogerson in Hyde Park, Massachusetts, and Hyde Park was then his home until 1924 when he moved to Milton, his present residence. He started at the age of eighteen years, in the wholesale boot and shoe business, and continued in that kind of business all his life. He was a travelling salesman in New England and New York for many years, and started in business for himself in 1885, the firm being Haynes & Gibbs, followed by Haynes Kelsey & Co., Haynes Sparrell & Co., and the Haynes Packard Shoe Co. He retired from business in 1922. In 1893 he became a member of the Boston Boot and Shoe Club, an organization of about two hundred shoe manufacturers and wholesale dealers, and in 1899 was elected Treasurer of the Club, which office he has held consecutively ever since, now (1928) for the twenty-ninth year. Being always fond of drawing and painting, he became a member of the Rockport Art Association, and has shown paintings in their exhibits, and also elsewhere. The picture of the Haynes Garrison House which is reproduced in this book, was painted by him.

He has always been interested in the Haynes Family history, as was his father before him. It was his father, William Francis Haynes, who made the copy, from the original manuscript, which we call the "Blue Book," recording Walter's coming to America, and the details of the three or four generations of his children. (See Preface). In association with D. F. Haynes he had also collected much valuable information about his Haynes ancestors, so when Miss Frances Haynes was trying to have the records left by her father preserved by publication, there seemed to Frederic Marshall Haynes to be an obligation to help in accomplishing this desired result, and, although now (1928) in his eighty sixth year, he has assisted in the preparation of the material, and, by raising the necessary funds for financing the work, it has been made possible to publish this book. Mr. Haynes is an Episcopalian. In politics is a Republican. Mr. Haynes and his wife have three children, as follows:

Stillman⁹ Haynes was born in Townsend, Mass., the son of Samuel⁸ and Eliza (Spaulding) Haynes.

He received his education in the public schools of his native town, at Leicester Academy, the Normal school in Lancaster, Mass., and at Kimball Union Academy, Meriden, N. H., from which institution he graduated in 1859. While pursuing his studies he frequently taught advanced village schools, and was also for a time an assistant teacher in Appleton Academy, New Ipswich, N. H.

In 1859 Mr. Haynes began the study of law in the office of Bonney & Marshall at Lowell, Mass., and was admitted to the bar in 1861. After a year's practice of his profession in Ashburnham, Mass., he returned to Townsend for five years. He removed to Fitchburg, Mass., in 1867 and that city was his home for the remainder of his life. He had a large general practice, and made a specialty of cases under the national bankruptcy and state insolvency laws. At the time of his death he was the senior member of the Fitchburg bar.

Mr. Haynes had high standards of citizenship and took an active interest in all public affairs, being especially interested in those connected with public education. While a resident of Townsend, he served as a member of the school board, as selectman, and as overseer of the poor. For nine years he was on the school board of Fitchburg. He performed with zeal and fidelity the duties of the offices to which he was elected. He was a trustee of the Worcester North Institution for Savings from its organization in 1868 until his death.

He was one of the original members of the Rollstone Congregational Church of Fitchburg, and prepared and obtained a charter for the society.

In 1863 Mr. Haynes married Harriet M. Kimball of Temple, N. H., daughter of Dea. Isaac Kimball of Temple. She died 5 Aug. 1904.

Children:

1348. JOHN¹⁰ HAYNES, Ph. D., was born in Townsend, Mass., May 22, 1865. In 1867, his parents removed to Fitchburg, where he received his education. He graduated from the Fitchburg High school in 1884 and from Williams College in 1888.

He chose teaching as his profession and was principal successively of the high school in East Hartford, Conn., Wethersfield, Conn., and Holbrook, Mass. Interest in his chosen field of history and economics led him to enter Johns Hopkins University for graduate study and he received the degree of Ph. D. from that institution in 1895. The three following years, Dr. Haynes taught in the Norwich (Conn.) Free Academy. In 1898 he began his 28 years of service in the Boston school system. From 1898-1901 as Junior Master in the Boston Public Latin school; from 1901-1912, he held a similar position in the Dorchester High school. In 1912, he was appointed senior master, and head of the department of social studies in the Hyde Park High school, a position which he held until his death, a period of 14 years. He was a teacher of rare ability, faithful in the smallest detail. His classroom work was enriched by a background of accumulated knowledge. He so trained his pupils in accuracy and thoroughness, that many college students testified that all of their college work was made easier by the discipline of study under his guidance. He was particularly interested in the work of the College Entrance Examination Board, being the first among Boston teachers to be appointed as a reader. He served as a reader in history for 18 successive years.

He was a member of several educational societies and the various offices to which he was elected showed the esteem in which he was held by his associates: Pres. N. E. History Teachers Association, 1912-1913; Pres. Boston High School Masters Association, 1914-1915; School Mens Economic Association (Chairman, Legislative Com. - successive years); Boston History Teachers Council (Representative for 14 years, Secretary for 9 years).

Dr. Haynes was often sought as a public speaker on current political topics and government. His wide reading on American politics and government and the precision of his memory made him well-informed on all questions of the day. He was equally concerned for local affairs. Non-partisan in many respects and independent in his thinking, he gave loyal support to men whose worth was proved and to measures that seemed to him of vital importance.

As a man, he was absolutely sincere, always true to his own convictions. He gave himself unstintingly to the cause of education, sacrificed his whole life to public service, and created a wealth of personality which will long endure.

Author of: (1) Risk as an Economic Factor (Quar. Journal of Economics, July, 1895); (2) Popular Election of U. S. Senators (Johns Hopkins University Studies, Vol. XI., 1893); (3) The Merging of National and State Politics (Yale Law Journal, March, 1893); (4) A Cure for the Gerrymander (Amer. 1161. SAMUEL IRVING⁹ HAYNES (768 Jacob,⁸ Samuel,⁷ Joseph,⁶ James,⁵ James,⁴ James,³ Dea. John,² Walter¹), m. Charlotte Fish.
Child:

1359. FREDERICK JACOB,¹⁰ was born at Cooperstown, N. Y., 28 Feb. 1871. He attended the schools of Syracuse, and at the age of twenty entered the Engineering School of Cornell University. Returning to Syracuse he obtained employment with the Syracuse Bicycle Co., in the machine shop and tool designing department. Later he went to the Hunter Arms Co., Fulton, N. Y., where he designed a new bicycle, and the necessary tools for manufacturing it. 1 Jan. 1899 he went to Canada and was Superintendent of the National Cycle and Automobile Co., of which the late John Dodge was general manager. Mr. Dodge resigning, recommended Mr. Haynes as his successor, and he was appointed to this position. The bicycle business having declined, Mr. Haynes, in 1902, went to Marquette, Mich., as superintendent of the Lake Shore Engine Works. Here a great diversity of work presented almost limitless problems, and afforded most splendid engineering experience. While there, Mr. John Dodge offered him a contract with the new Ford Motor Co., but Mr. Haynes declined it. In 1904 he returned to Syracuse as assistant to John Wilkinson, the creator of the Franklin automobile. During the next eight years,—while he was with the H. H. Franklin Mfg. Co., and the automobile was being constantly developed and improved,—Mr. Haynes became factory manager. Early in 1912 when Dodge Brothers were beginning to lay plans to build a car of their own, John Dodge asked Mr. Haynes to become works manager for them, which position he accepted, 15 June 1912. From the day of its inception, the Dodge Brothers plant has been growing, by leaps and bounds, and the task of getting production at capacity called for the highest quality of executive ability. John Dodge died in 1920 and his brother Horace lived but a little longer, but the plant was operated at steadily increasing capacity by Mr. Haynes, and on Jan. 1, 1921 Frederick J. Haynes was chosen President and General Manager of Dodge Brothers.

During the late war, Mr. Haynes supervised the huge plant of the Dodge Brothers,—11 acres under one roof,—then furnishing the government with the famous 155 m.m. French hydro-pneumatic recoil mechanisms for large guns. The French said this work could not be done in America, but the results proved that the Dodge plant could turn out these mechanisms in less time than the French, and surpassed them in accuracy of product.

The following statement by Mr. Haynes seems to explain his success: "I don't say that a man's whole life should consist of business, and nothing but business, but I do say, and I do know, that the man who puts his job first, is the man who gives his orders in the end."

He was elected a member of the United States Chamber of Commerce in May 1924 for a two-year term. In May 1926 he was again elected for two years, and also again in 1928, which will be his last term, with a total service of six years.

Mr. Haynes is a lover of the great out-of-doors and animal life. His favorite recreations are hunting and fishing. He is a member of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers; of the College Fraternity Phi Kappa Psi; of the Detroit Riding and Hunt Club; the Detroit Athletic Club; Detroit Golf Club; the Detroit Automobile and Country Clubs; Detroit Club; Detroit Yacht Club; and is also a member of the Masonic order. His religious affiliation is with the Christian Scientists. His political party has always been Republican.

On 26 Feb. 1896, F. J. Haynes married Miss Clara Kester, daughter of Edwin John and Ida (Monroe) Kester, born 10 April 1875, at Elbridge, N. Y. They now live at Virginia Park, a suburb of Detroit.
